REBELS CLAIM BENTON WAS MEXICAN CITIZEN.

Property Deeds Refer to Him as Under Great Britain.

State Department's Request for the Body Meets No Response.

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 24.—The attempt of the Mexican rebels to establish that William S. Benton the Scottish rancheman who was executed just a week ago today, was a Mexican citizen is based on a report that he once held some minor office while President Porfirio Diaz was in power. This statement was made today at Juarez by Frederico Gonzales Garza, counselor, to the commander of the garrison, we added: "We have heard that Benton held several small offices under President Diaz and that he was once mayor of a small settlement on his own estate. He could not have held office without being a Mexican citizen and the records at Chihuahua City are being searched to establish the facts."

Relatives here of Benton say the deeds to his Mexican property refer to him as a British subject and that he was always careful that there should be no doubt on this point. In the meanwhile the request of the State Department at Washington to turn over the body of Benton had met with no response.

The finding in the Imperial Valley, Cal., of Roger Laurence, the Englishman who was reported missing in Mexico, leads to the belief here that his alleged companion, Curtis, also is safe in the United States. No trace, however, of Harry Compton for whom the American authorities were looking, has been revealed.

An interview printed in the El Paso Times today quotes Villa at Chihuahua as saying that he gave Gustav Bauch, an American, his liberty at Juarez last Thursday. This statement contradicts the information given to Thomas B. Edwards, the American consul, by Villa, that Bauch had been taken to Chihuahua, where his case was being reviewed.

Efforts of American Consul Edwards to induce the Constitutionalists to turn over to the widow the body of William S. Benton, the British subject who was executed by General Villa a week ago, continued today. So far the request made last Saturday by the American authorities, that the body be given to Benton's widow, has met with no response from General Villa, Benton's friends, the Federal Junta and many sympathizers continued their attempt to ascertain the facts concerning the execution. Benton's friends showed no disposition to change their own verdict of "murder." At Chihuahua General Villa continued to insist that Benton had attempted to kill him and he had turned the Scotchman over to guards for execution.

The rebel general contradicted his official report to the American consul at Juarez, by saying he knew nothing of the whereabouts of Gustav Bauch, a German-American, accused of being a spy. His official report stated that Bauch had been taken to Chihuahua.

The sending of Charles Alexander Spencer Perceval, British consul at Galveston, to El Paso was regarded in some quarters as a move intended to relieve the American government to some extent of its responsibility toward foreigners in northern Mexico.

PERCEVAL TO OBTAIN REPORTS.

Villa Not to Interfere With Investigation Into Benton's Death.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The British government has invoked the good offices of the United States government to assure them that there shall be no interference by General Villa with the investigation into the death of William S. Benton, to be made by Charles Perceval, British consul at Galveston. Perceval has been ordered to proceed to Juarez and to supply the best reports possible.

Sir Edward Grey, British foreign secretary, informed the House of Commons today of the latest developments in the Mexican situation. He said Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador at Washington, had been instructed to inform the United States government that Great Britain considered it essential for a British consul to visit the spot where William S. Benton was killed. Consul Perceval, at Galveston, had been selected for this purpose and he was to supply the most adequate reports possible regarding Benton's death and concerning the missing Englishman, Curtis.

Sir Cecil was instructed to ask the United States government, as Great Britain had no means of communication with General Villa to instruct the United States consul at Juarez to inform Villa and to request an assurance that the British consul should not be interfered with. Sir Edward Grey read a communication from the State Department to Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, which the British ambassador cabled to the foreign office. It was as follows:

"The State Department desires to advise the British embassy that instructions have been sent heretofore to the American consul at Juarez to make a searching inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of William S. Benton. The consul has been instructed to make every effort to secure the exhumation and examination of the body of the deceased, to take the statements of any and all the witnesses whom he can find, to employ in his investigation medical and legal assistance as far as may be desirable, and to do everything in his power to elicit the facts."

NO TRACE OF MISSING MAN.

Bauch Not Known at the Penitentiary in Chihuahua.

CHIHUAHUA, Feb. 24.—In reply to inquiries made at the penitentiary here today by Marion Letcher the American consul, and the Associated Press, it was stated that Gustav Bauch, the American reported missing, had never been there. At the city hall the American consul also failed to find any trace of the missing man.

CLAIM OF CONNELL DEBATED IN SENATE.

Point Made That Charter Should Authorize Council to Pay.

Act Explained by Beeckman and Passed in Concurrence.

(Special despatch to the News.)

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 24.—The act asked by the Representative Council of Newport, that the city might pay the claim of James Connell because of injuries resulting from being struck by a fire truck, was the cause of considerable wrangling in the senate today and an apparent different reading of the state law than is given it in Newport.

Senator Champlin of New Shoreham raised a little breeze, attacking the policy of bringing such minor matters to the legislature, and seemingly tried to score against the charter of that city. He said that if the charter does not permit the Representative Council to attend to such matters it should be amended so that it will. Senator Beeckman of Newport said the Representative Council did not consider that it had the right to pay for damages done by fire apparatus responding to an alarm under the state statutes regulating fire departments. Senator Champlin talked and Senators Monroe and Archambault came to the support of the Newport senator, but they could not help feeling that it was a small amount to come to the legislature to expend. The act was finally passed in concurrence.

The senate judiciary committee reported back an act making the inspector of beef and pork a salaried officer, fixing the pay at $1,500. Calendar.

Senator Pierce of Cranston introduced an act exempting one horse, two heads of cattle and one hog from taxation. Judiciary committee.

Senator Sweet of North Providence introduced an act providing for property owners in that town dedicating land to highway purposes. Judiciary committee.

In the house Messrs. West, Bashaw and Atwood (Progressive) moved to have acts which they had introduced taken from committees. In each case they were defeated. In Mr. Atwood's case it was an effort to secure for the action of the house the resolution providing for an investigation of Rhode Island's public roads commission. The Chair refused even to allow the resolution to be read, because it was charged that some parts of it might be considered debate. Mr. Atwood, the new Republican member of the commission, was among the members of his party who vigorously defended the subject from debate.

An act authorizing the use of state armories by the police and fire departments of the cities in which they are located was passed, as was an act authorizing the police boards of cities to grant the men two days off a month. There was considerable argument on this, but all efforts to amend it failed.

Mr. Millard of Cranston offered an amendment to the act relative to street railway transfers which he introduced earlier in the session. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Atwood of Providence (Progressive) introduced an act providing for a representation of his party on tickets and as caucus officials. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Saunders of Cranston offered an amendment to the automobile law which would provide that one third of the fines go to the town or city in which the offense is committed. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Eaton of Providence introduced a resolution providing for representation of the state at the Panama Pacific Exposition by a special commission. Finance committee.

BOOMING PROHIBITION.

Business Men of State Entertained at Providence Luncheon.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 24.—A short time ago the business men of Pittsburgh, Chicago and Baltimore combined the Boards of Trades of those cities in a concerted movement for prohibition, agreeing to raise $50,000 each. These Boards of Trades are entertaining the business men of Rhode Island at a luncheon at the Narragansett Hotel today.

Ex-Governor Garvin, a native of Tennessee, from which state came one of the principal speakers, presided. Grace was said by Rev. Dr. Edward Holyoke of Providence, and the first of the two principal speakers, Howard H. Russell, LL. D., of Ohio, welcomed the assemblage of 500 men and women, in behalf of the entertaining Boards of Trade. He spoke at some length, and was enthusiastically received. He was followed by ex-Governor Malcolm R. Patterson of Tennessee, whose forcible logic and eloquence moved the assembly. Several were present from Newport.

Another luncheon will be given this evening, with the same speakers.

BECKER GRANTED NEW TRIAL.

Conviction of Gun Men Who Appealed With Him Affirmed.

ALBANY, Feb. 24.—A new trial was granted Charles Becker, former New York police lieutenant under death sentence for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, by the court of appeals. The court stood 6 to 1, Justice Werner filing the only dissenting opinion. The convictions of the four gun men who appealed with Becker were unanimously affirmed.

TROU RE-CAPTURED.

Town Re-Captured from the Rebels by Government Troops.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, Feb. 24.—The government troops today recaptured from the rebels the town of Trou, to the south of Fort Liberte.

ALLOWANCES TO SHORT LINES OF RAILROADS.

Interstate Commerce Commission Asked to Re-Consider.

Discontinuance of Through Rates Serious Blow to Steel Industries.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Assuming that trunk line railroads are arranging to discontinue immediately through rates with the Union Railroad Company, the Newburgh & South Shore Railway Company, and the Lake Terminal Railroad Company subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation attorneys for the corporation today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to re-open the "matter of allowances to short lines of railroads serving industries." The union railroad controlled by the Carnegie Steel Company, operates more than 33 miles of track about Pittsburgh; the Newburg & South Shore operates nine miles of road in Cleveland and Newburg Ohio, connecting the Newburg Steel Works and Emma Furnace and Central Works with diverging lines; and the Lake Terminal railroad, owned by the Federal Steel Company, performs switching service between various railroads entering Lorain and South Lorain, Ohio, operating more than 62 miles of track.

The brief filed with the commission contends that in the transportation of iron and steel products and of raw materials, including coke and coal, it has been the general custom, from the beginning of the industry, for the carriers to spot cars within the industry where they are to be loaded or unloaded and take each car when loaded or unloaded to the main line and that freight rates on these commodities have been continuously constructed upon the basis of the cost of such services. It is further contended that while for 141 miles, the distance from steel industries on the Union railroad to New York, the average car revenue over Eastern trunk lines on all commodities is $66.09, it is $112.54 for steel products. Figures are also given to show that the same condition prevails in the transportation of all commodities and steel products from many other points in Eastern trunk line territory.

The petitioners contend that the commission should not have found that the complainants' railroads are plant facilities, and they argue that the commission is not justified in the conclusion that "service performed for industries adjacent to complainants' tracks gives such industries an obvious advantage over a shipper who delivers and accepts his freight on a public team track."

It is argued that the commission should not have found that the delivery of a car upon complainants' interchange track is a delivery for the purpose of assessing demurrage, and that the commission should not have found that the admission of the industrial railroads to the modified per diem agreement is an "undue, unreasonable and unlawful preference and adding to the industry."

The general effect of the report of the commission, if carried into effect, it is held, would be unlawfully to impose on steel industries the cost of operating terminal facilities and to cause line carriers to discriminate against industries located along terminal railroads. It would advance rates on particular commodities, which rates are a part of a long-continued adjustment, and the proposed change would disturb the whole rate situation; would disturb the grouping of rates into territories by making different ratings to and from industries in the same groups, and would re-arrange the whole fabric of rates in this country.

The commission is asked to make an order prohibiting trunk lines, who were parties to the original submission of this matter to the commission from carrying out the proposed discontinuances of through rates pending the re-hearing, and also to make an order directing the trunk lines to continue existing through rates and allowances.

IN CASE OF WILSONS, CHICAGO.

Constitutionality of White Slave Law Again Upheld by Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The constitutionality of the federal White Slave law was again upheld today by the Supreme Court in the Wilson cases from Chicago. The point whether the law is limited to commercial vice was not involved.

THREE FIREMEN OVERCOME.

Big Blaze in the Galt Warehouse in Portland, Maine.

PORTLAND, Maine, Feb. 24.—Three firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke and another was slightly injured by a falling wall before the fire in the Galt Block warehouse on Commercial street was placed under control early today. The loss was estimated at $100,000, though this may be increased by an inventory of the damaged contents of the building. The fire was fought more than 15 hours in a temperature varying from 10 to 5 degrees below zero, the dense smoke preventing the firemen from reaching the interior of the block for some time.

Interstate Commerce Commission Asked to Re-Consider.

Discontinuance of Through Rates Serious Blow to Steel Industries.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Assuming that trunk line railroads are arranging to discontinue immediately through rates with the Union Railroad Company, the Newburgh & South Shore Railway Company, and the Lake Terminal Railroad Company subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation attorneys for the corporation today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to re-open the "matter of allowances to short lines of railroads serving industries." The union railroad controlled by the Carnegie Steel Company, operates more than 31 miles of track about Pittsburgh; the Newburg & South Shore operates nine miles of road in Cleveland and Newburg Ohio, connecting the Newburg Steel Works and Emma Furnace and Central Works, with diverging lines; and the Lake Terminal railroad, owned by the Federal Steel Company, performs switching service between various railroads entering Lorain and South Lorain, Ohio, operating more than 62 miles of track.

The brief filed with the commission contends that in the transportation of iron and steel products and of raw materials, including coke and coal, it has been the general custom, from the beginning of the industry, for the carriers to spot cars within the industry where they are to be loaded or unloaded and take each car when loaded or unloaded to the main line and that freight rates on these commodities have been continuously constructed upon the basis of the cost of such services. It is further contended that while for 441 miles, the distance from steel industries on the Union railroad to New York, the average car revenue over Eastern trunk lines on all commodities is $66.69, it is $112.54 for steel products. Figures are also given to show that the same condition prevails in the transportation of all commodities and steel products from many other points in Eastern trunk line territory.

The petitioners contend that the commission should not have found that the complainants' railroads are plant facilities, and they argue that the commission is not justified in the conclusion that "service performed for industries adjacent to complainants' tracks gives such industries an obvious advantage over a shipper who delivers and accepts his freight on a public team track."

It is argued that the commission should not have found that the delivery of a car upon complainants' interchange track is a delivery for the purpose of assessing demurrage, and that the commission should not have found that the admission of the industrial railroads to the modified per diem agreement is an "undue, unreasonable and unlawful preference and adding to the industry."

The general effect of the report of the commission, if carried into effect, it is held, would be unlawfully to impose on steel industries the cost of operating terminal facilities and to cause line carriers to discriminate against industries located along terminal railroads. It would advance rates on particular commodities, which rates are a part of a long continued adjustment, and the proposed change would disturb the whole rate situation; would disturb the grouping of rates into territories by making different ratings to and from industries in the same groups, and would re-arrange the whole fabric of rates in this country.

The commission is asked to make an order prohibiting trunk lines, who were parties to the original submission of this matter to the commission from carrying out the proposed discontinuances of through rates pending the re-hearing, and also to make an order directing the trunk lines to continue existing through rates and allowances.

THREE FIREMEN OVERCOME.

Big Blaze in the Galt Warehouse in Portland, Maine.

PORTLAND, Maine, Feb. 24.—Three firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke and another was slightly injured by a falling wall before the fire in the Galt Block warehouse on Commercial street was placed under control early today. The loss was estimated at $100,000, though this may be increased by an inventory of the damaged contents of the building. The fire was fought more than 15 hours in a temperature varying from 10 to 0 degrees below zero, the dense smoke preventing the firemen from reaching the interior of the block for some time.

CIVIC LEAGUE HOUSE.

New Home Quickly Finds its Place and Use in the Community.

[Civic League Bulletin.]

The most sanguine member of the Civic League would scarcely have ventured to prophesy that the new house—Mr. King's generous gift—could so quickly have found its place and use in the community. Only a few short months have passed since the house, altered and adapted to its new uses, was opened for the first time to the public. Now so many and varied are the activities connected with it that the league can scarcely conceive how it was ever without a home of its own or was able to accomplish in the past many things of some importance when there was no home.

No set of rented rooms, however, convenient, could make the appeal to us or encourage and strengthen our labors as this beautiful building of which we may say—"It is our home."

Here necessary business meetings are held. Here we may entertain our friends as we did at our summer house warming. This winter a series of five entertainments is being given for members and their friends; the first by the children from the League of Good Citizenship; next a play given by the Camp Fire girls; then for the third entertainment a lecture this month followed by other amusements in March and April. The Camp Fire Girls have repeated their play, adding to it some scenes from "Little Women." The girls of the Camp Fire thoroughly enjoy their large room with its comfortable furnishings. Their appreciation of such comfort leads them to share it with others. Hence their Christmas party for the Children's Home and an invitation to the same children to come to see their play.

Saturdays sewing and kitchen-garden classes are held for children and the story-telling hour. Other ways of using the house for young people have been conceived and will develop when money and helpers can be found to carry them out. It can easily be seen that already a goodly number of New port people, both old and young, have enjoyed the hospitality of Civic League House and have found it a convenient meeting place and will associate it with memories of pleasant hours. A large number of children met here last August to display the products of their school gardens and the space afforded for each garden and the opportunity given for individual taste in arrangement made the exhibit the most satisfactory one ever given and will encourage the children to work more faithfully next summer.

In addition to its use by workers in the league, Civic League House has been found a pleasant meeting place by many other people. It has already been rented a number of times for entertainments. Its spacious hall with adjoining rooms and convenient kitchen are very suitable for parties, and in part a more attractive and home-like atmosphere than an ordinary, public hall which has to be extensively decorated. Our little hall is already decorated and its walls are a delight to the eye and need no further embellishments.

The house committee is always glad to receive applications for rental as the funds of the league treasury are thereby increased. Frequent rentals will enable the league to maintain the house successfully and carry out its purpose, which is to be in every possible way a benefit to the community.

FOR TWO BATTLESHIPS.

Fight in House Committee Won Against the "Little Navy" Men.

When the House naval affairs committee meets for final action on the naval appropriation bill it will vote for two battleships and the remainder of the building program advocated by the Navy Department. Of the 21 members four or five will vote against two battleships. A proposition for one will be offered and this will receive the votes of the no-battleship men after they have failed to obtain the adoption of an amendment to the bill striking out all.

Real interest now centres in the fight to be made on the floor of the House, the "little navy" men having been convinced that there is nothing they can do now to accomplish anything more in the committee.

It is learned that the no-battleship men will write a minority report in which they will criticise the Navy Department and bitterly attack those who demand two battleships, being careful not to aim their shafts at the President. They will attempt to show that the steel and the powder companies and the "interests" which have munitions of war to sell are exerting a baneful influence on the Navy Department. The Navy League will be attacked and every one else who favors an adequate navy. Reference will be made to the passage by the House of the Hensley peace resolution, and it will be asserted that the action of the House in voting for two battleships would be a breach of faith.

Although the naval affairs committee by a vote of nine to three went on record in favor of an appropriation of $500,000 for increasing the capacity of the powder factory at Indian Head Md., it is learned that the opponents of the item propose to take their fight to the floor of the House. A point of order will be made against the item. Whether it will be sustained will be largely with the chairman of the committee of the whole. The leader of the opposition is Representative Samuel A. Witherspoon of Mississippi, who takes the position that the navy has plenty of powder.

The committee also voted to increase the limit of cost of the Pearl Harbor dry dock to about $4,800,000 which is $1,500,000 more than the present limit.

Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL.

Association Quintets Win Two Games—Athletics Defeated 28 to 18.

In place of the Recreation League events at the Young Men's Christian Association Monday evening there were three games of basket ball between junior teams, the Association quintets winning two. The speedy St Augustin's Juniors, who have been triumphing over all the young aggregations in town, defeated the Athletics by a score of 28-18. The Association came to win were the Lime Rocks and the Queen's Five.

The Lime Rocks met with little opposition from the St Mary's Whites whom they defeated by a comfortable margin of 25-8. In the first half they secured a lead of 9-2, and in the second had it even easier, leading 16-6. A. Dannin led in the scoring with six goals, while Jestings and Dring also played well for the Lime Rocks. O'Brien did best for the St. Mary's Whites. The line-up and summary follows:

Lime Rocks.	St. Mary's Whites.
Jestings, r. f.	l. g., Bowman
A. Dannin, l. f.	r. g., Flannery
Dring, c.	c. Sullivan
J. Dannin, Cassidy, r. g.	l. f., Keete
Henderson, l. g.	r. f., O'Brien

Score—Lime Rocks 25, St. Mary's Whites 8. Goals from floor—A. Dannin 6, Jestings 3, Dring 2, Cassidy, O'Brien 2, Sullivan, Bowman. Goal from foul line—Jestings. Referee—Slocum. Scorer—Underwood. Timer—Wyllie. Time—10-minute halves.

The Queen's Five, after meeting a succession of defeats, finally triumphed over the St. Mary's Reds by an overwhelming score of 20-5. The down-town lads never had a chance to win and were constantly kept on the defensive. The Queen's Five secured a 12-3 lead in the first half, and came out ahead in the second by a score of 8-2. Connell, Berry, and A. Dannin did all the scoring for the winners, while Walsh was conspicuous for the St. Mary's Reds. The line-up and summary:

Queen's Five.	St Mary's Reds
Berry, r. f.	l. g., Flannery
Connell, l. f.	r. g., Gallagher
Harris, c.	c., McCrohan
Vincent, r. g.	l. f., Walsh
A. Dannin, l. g.	r. f., Nagel

Score—Queen's Five 20, St. Mary's Reds 5. Goals from floor—Connell 3, Berry 3, H. Dannin 2; Walsh 2. Goal from foul line—Gallagher. Referee—Slocum. Scorer—Underwood. Timer—Wyllie. Time—10-minute halves.

In what proved a speedy game the last St Augustin's Juniors defeated the Athletics, 28-18. Largely through the good playing of F. Sullivan and O'Brien, they were able to come out ahead in the first half by a score of 8-8, but the Athletics played a much stronger game during the latter period, and held the St. Augustin's even, each team registering 10 points. F. Sullivan and O'Brien were the life of the St Augustin's, while Jestings was the main stay of the Athletics. The line-up and summary follow:

St. Augustin Juniors.	Athletics
F. Sullivan, r. f.	l. g., Larson
O'Brien, l. f.	r. g., Ladyman
O'Hanley, c.	c., Jestings
J. Sullivan, r. g.	l. f., Bailey
Lynch, l. g.	r. f., Devlin

Score—St. Augustin's Juniors 28, Athletics 18 Goals from floor—O'Brien 5, F. Sullivan 5, O'Hanley J. Sullivan, Lynch, Jestings 3, Larson, Ladyman, Bailey. Goals from foul line—Jestings. Referee—Slocum. Scorers—Underwood, Quill. Timer—Wyllie. Time—8-minute halves.

MIKE HITS BACK.

[Lippincott's.]

"Where's that bulldog you had last summer?" asked the motorist, as he drove into the yard.

"Oh, the poor baste swallered a tape measure," replied Mike, "an' he died, sorr."

"Indeed!" exclaimed the man. "He died by inches, I suppose," he continued waggishly.

"Oh no, sorr," said Mike; "he went around th' back o' th' house, sorr, an' died by th' yard."

SHOVELER DECAPITATED.

Worker Hit by Steam Scoop in Fall Into Coal Pile in Concord.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 23.—Mufamet Bekotash, 24 years old, and one year in this country, was instantly killed today while at work shoveling coal in the local railroad yard. He slipped and fell into the coal pile just as the steam scoop shovel descended for its load. The rims of the shovel, coming together caught the man by the neck and decapitated him.

IN DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS.

Rev. J. T. W. Williams Not Allowed to Cross Line Into United States.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario, Feb 23.—The United States immigration authorities have refused to permit Canadian officials to transfer Rev. J. T. W. Williams of Newcastle, Pa., across the line into the United States in deportation proceedings. Mr. Williams, who was formerly pastor of a Congregational church at Newcastle, was arrested in Toronto Thursday in company with Mrs George Thomas, with whom it was alleged he had run away from the Pennsylvania town, leaving a wife and family in Newcastle. The immigration officials on the American side declared that Williams is not and never was a citizen of the United States. He came, they say, from Australia and was never naturalized. The Ottawa authorities today were notified of the situation.

Expectancy!

You hope to keep your teeth for life. Everyone does.

But is your expectancy really an honest one? If you know you have an "acid-mouth" and fail to use Pebeco Tooth Paste—the one dentifrice which really stops "acid-mouth"—can you in all fairness expect to keep your teeth for life?

Pebeco
Tooth Paste

Be honest with your teeth. Give them the chance they ask for. Find out, by using Pebeco "test papers," whether you have an "acid-mouth" (9 out of every 10 do). If you have, there's but one choice—Pebeco—it overcomes "acid-mouth."

But Pebeco efficiency does not stop here. It cleans — whitens — and polishes teeth beautifully.

[Civic League Bulletin.]

The most sanguine member of the Civic League would scarcely have ventured to prophesy that the new house—Mr. King's generous gift—could so quickly have found its place and use in the community. Only a few short months have passed since the house, altered and adapted to its new uses, was opened for the first time to the public. Now so many and varied are the activities connected with it that the league can scarcely conceive how it was ever without a home of its own or was able to accomplish in the past many things of some importance when there was no home.

No set of rented rooms, however, convenient, could make the appeal to us or encourage and strengthen our labors as this beautiful building of which we may say—"It is our home."

Here necessary business meetings are held. Here we may entertain our friends as we did at our summer house warming. This winter a series of five entertainments is being given for members and their friends; the first by the children from the League of Good Citizenship; next a play given by the Camp Fire girls; then for the third entertainment a lecture this month followed by other amusements in March and April. The Camp Fire Girls have repeated their play, adding to it some scenes from "Little Women." The girls of the Camp Fire thoroughly enjoy their large room with its comfortable furnishings. Their appreciation of such comfort leads them to share it with others. Hence their Christmas party for the Children's Home and an invitation to the same children to come to see their play.

Saturdays sewing and kitchen-garden classes are held for children and the story-telling hour. Other ways of using the house for young people have been conceived and will develop when money and helpers can be found to carry them out. It can easily be seen that already a goodly number of Newport people, both old and young, have enjoyed the hospitality of Civic League House and have found it a convenient meeting place and will associate it with memories of pleasant hours. A large number of children met here last August to display the products of their school gardens and the space afforded for each garden and the opportunity given for individual taste in arrangement made the exhibit the most satisfactory one ever given and will encourage the children to work more faithfully next summer.

In addition to its use by workers in the league, Civic League House has been found a pleasant meeting place by many other people. It has already been rented a number of times for entertainments. Its spacious hall with adjoining rooms and convenient kitchen are very suitable for parties, and impart a more attractive and home-like atmosphere than an ordinary, public hall which has to be extensively decorated. Our little hall is already decorated and its walls are a delight to the eye and need no further embellishments.

The house committee is always glad to receive applications for rental as the funds of the league treasury are thereby increased. Frequent rentals will enable the league to maintain the house successfully and carry out its purpose, which is to be in every possible way a benefit to the community.

FOR TWO BATTLESHIPS.

Fight in House Committee Won Against the "Little Navy" Men.

When the House naval affairs committee meets for final action on the naval appropriation bill it will vote for two battleships and the remainder of the building program advocated by the Navy Department. Of the 21 members four or five will vote against two battleships. A proposition for one will be offered and this will receive the votes of the no-battleship men after they have failed to obtain the adoption of an amendment to the bill striking out all.

Real interest now centres in the fight to be made on the floor of the House, the "little navy" men having been convinced that there is nothing they can do now to accomplish anything more in the committee.

It is learned that the no-battleship men will write a minority report in which they will criticise the Navy Department and bitterly attack those who demand two battleships, being careful not to aim their shafts at the President. They will attempt to show that the steel and the powder companies and the "interests" which have munitions of war to sell are exerting a baneful influence on the Navy Department. The Navy League will be attacked and every one else who favors an adequate navy. Reference will be made to the passage by the House of the Hensley peace resolution, and it will be asserted that the action of the House in voting for two battleships would be a breach of faith.

Although the naval affairs committee by a vote of nine to three went on record in favor of an appropriation of $500,000 for increasing the capacity of the powder factory at Indian Head Md., it is learned that the opponents of the item propose to take their fight to the floor of the House. A point of order will be made against the item. Whether it will be sustained will lie largely with the chairman of the committee of the whole. The leader of the opposition is Representative Samuel A. Witherspoon of Mississippi, who takes the position that the navy has plenty of powder.

The committee also voted to increase the limit of cost of the Pearl Harbor dry dock to about $1,500,000 which is $1,500,000 more than the present limit.

Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL.

Association Quintets Win Two Games—Athletics Defeated 28 to 18.

In place of the Recreation League events at the Young Men's Christian Association Monday evening there were three games of basket ball between junior teams, the Association quintets winning two. The speedy St. Augustin's Juniors, who have been triumphing over all the young aggregations in town, defeated the Athletics by a score of 28-18. The Association came to win were the Lime Rocks and the Queen's Five.

The Lime Rocks met with little opposition from the St Mary's Whites whom they defeated by a comfortable margin of 25-8. In the first half they secured a lead of 9-2, and in the second had it even easier, leading 16-6. A. Dannin led in the scoring with six goals, while Jestings and Dring also played well for the Lime Rocks. O'Brien did best for the St. Mary's Whites. The line-up and summary follows:

Lime Rocks.	St. Mary's Whites.
Jestings, r. f.	l. g., Bowman
A. Dannin, l. f.	r. g., Flannery
Dring, c.	c. Sullivan
J. Dannin, Cassidy, r. g.	l. f., Keefe
Henderson, l. g.	r. f., O'Brien

Score—Lime Rocks 25, St. Mary's Whites 8. Goals from floor—A. Dannin 6, Jestings 3, Dring 2, Cassidy; O'Brien 2, Sullivan, Bowman. Goal from foul line—Jestings. Referee—Slocum. Scorer—Underwood. Timer—Wyllie. Time—10-minute halves.

The Queen's Five, after meeting a succession of defeats, finally triumphed over the St. Mary's Reds by an overwhelming score of 20-5. The town-town lads never had a chance to win and were constantly kept on the defensive. The Queen's Five secured a 12-2 lead in the first half, and came out ahead in the second by a score of 8-2 Connell, Berry, and H. Dannin did all the scoring for the winners, while Walsh was conspicuous for the St. Mary's Reds. The line-up and summary:

Queen's Five.	St. Mary's Red.
Berry, r. f.	l. g., Flannery
Connell, l. f.	r. g., Gallagher
Harris, c.	c., McCrohan
Vincent, r. g.	l. f., Walsh
H. Dannin, l. g.	r. f., Nagel

Score—Queen's Five 20, St. Mary's Red 5. Goals from floor—Connell 5, Berry 3, H. Dannin 33, Walsh 2. Goal from foul line—Gallagher. Referee—Slocum. Scorer—Underwood. Timer—Wyllie. Time—10-minute halves.

In what proved a speedy game the last St. Augustin's Juniors defeated the Athletics, 28-18, largely through the good playing of F. Sullivan and O'Brien, they were able to come out ahead in the first half by a score of 18-8, but the Athletics played a much stronger game during the latter period, and held the St. Augustin's even, each team registering 10 points. F. Sullivan and O'Brien were the life of the St. Augustin's, while Jestings was the main stay of the Athletics. The line-up and summary follow:

St. Augustin Juniors.	Athletics.
F. Sullivan, r. f.	l. g., Larson
O'Brien, l. f.	r. g., Ladyman
O'Hanley, c.	c., Jestings
J. Sullivan, r. g.	l. f., Bailey
Lynch, l. g.	r. f., Devlin

Score—St. Augustin's Juniors 28, Athletics 18. Goals from floor—O'Brien 5, F. Sullivan 5, O'Hanley, J. Sullivan, Lynch; Jestings 5, Larson, Ladyman, Bailey. Goals from foul line—Jestings 3. Referee—Slocum. Scorers—Underwood, Cahill. Timer—Wyllie. Time—10-minute halves.

MIKE HITS BACK.

[Lippincott's.]

"Where's that bulldog you had last summer?" asked the motorist, as he rove into the yard.

"Oh, the poor baste swallered a tape measure," replied Mike, "an' he died, sorr."

"Indeed!" exclaimed the man. "He died by inches, I suppose," he continued waggishly.

"Oh, no, sorr," said Mike; "he went around th' back o' th' house, sorr, an' died by th' yard."

He slipped and fell into the coal pile just as the steam scoop shovel descended for its load. The rims of the shovel, coming together caught the man by the neck and decapitated him.

IN DEPORTATION PROCEEDINGS.

Rev. J. T. W. Williams Not Allowed to Cross Line Into United States.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario, Feb 23.—The United States immigration authorities have refused to permit Canadian officials to transfer Rev. J. T. W. Williams of Newcastle, Pa., across the line into the United States in deportation proceedings. Mr. Williams, who was formerly pastor of a Congregational church at Newcastle, was arrested in Toronto Thursday in company with Mrs. George Thomas, with whom it was alleged he had run away from the Pennsylvania town, leaving a wife and family in Newcastle. The immigration officials on the American side declared that Williams is not and never was a citizen of the United States. He came, they say, from Australia and was never naturalized. The Ottawa authorities today were notified of the situation.

Expectancy!

You hope to keep your teeth for life. Everyone does.

But is your expectancy really an honest one? If you know you have an "acid-mouth" and fail to use Pebeco Tooth Paste—the one dentifrice which really stops "acid-mouth"—can you in all fairness expect to keep your teeth for life?

Pebeco

Tooth Paste

Be honest with your teeth. Give them the chance they ask for. Find out, by using Pebeco "test papers," whether you have an "acid-mouth" (9 out of every 10 do). If you have, there's but one choice—Pebeco—it overcomes "acid-mouth."

But Pebeco efficiency does not stop here. It cleans — whitens — and polishes teeth beautifully.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

verage American Factory Just Awakening to Foreign Trade.

[Sioux City Tribune.]

An Eastern manufacturer has just ured an Italian contract calling for 000,000 worth of cast iron pipe for in an aqueduct. The contract was ured at about $22 a ton in the face competition from British, German d Belgian concerns. This should and will be but a beginning for h American concerns. The foran markets have scarcely been ched by American manufacturers here are some exceptions, such as International Harvester Company ich has an annual foreign business $50,000,000; the Pullman Company ich supplies the world with its proct, and the United States Steel mpany, which successfully comes the world over in structural and road steel.

But the average American factory just awakening to the possibilities foreign trade. The Belgian steel lls operating in a free market, have reased their output 50 per cent in last eight years. Sweden with a ulation of less than 6,000,000, has 0 manufacturing concerns. These e been forced to go out after forn trade, and so adept have they beme as world merchandisers that as h as 95 per cent of their output metimes goes abroad. To approxite the accomplishments of either these examples of little nations uld make this country fabulously h and powerful.

The late J. P. Morgan was right in dicting that this nation hadn't mmenced its real development, and erting that the man who kept on bear side of the market would ner or later go broke as he would betting against the inevitable.

COMEDY CLEAN AND ENJOYABLE.

Zouave drill by waistie, marching movements, manual of arms, and a setting up drill with rifles. Another feature of this act was the appearance of the two children of Chief Yeoman Segura as Lieutenant Bluff of the U. S. S. Murrahooch and as the ship's bugler, the little ones, one of them scarcely five years old, showing a good stage presence and a taste for acting which was noticeable.

The entire company was stage and letter perfect, showing careful training and thorough appreciation of the necessity of giving every word or movement its proper attention, and there was no lacking in the smallest detail. The company Saturday evening gave a full dress rehearsal at the Training Station, for which invitations were sent to a favored few. All agreed that Chief Boatswain Davis and the entire company had something worth seeing, and the public performance at the Opera House warranted this feeling.

The program, which was printed at the Training Station, was a four-leaf folder, with a four-leaf insert, in which the possibilities of the art were shown by three-color printing, and some excellent overlay work. On one of the pages of the cover was a picture in color of the old ship Constellation, on another the Constitution and on a third a full-page picture of a sailor, with the poem, "The Man behind the Gun." The program was the work of E. W. Swisher, printer, U. S. N.

There has been a good sale of tickets for the second performance this evening, and another large audience is assured.

BUILDING UP CAPITAL.

Banks Exist to Help People Save and Care for Their Money.

[American Bankers Association.]

"By thrift is meant simply that way of living which systematically transfers a portion of one's income to one's capital. It is not inconsistent with generosity; it is not a synonym of niggardliness."—[Dr. Shaller Mathews.

A Pennsylvania girl has won the prize that the American society for thrift recently offered for the best definition of thrift. "Thrift," she wrote, "is management of your affairs in such a manner that the value of your possessions is constantly being increased." The girl has come pretty close to hitting the nail on the head, and in simple language she has told the secret of how to create personal capital.

This would be a discouraging world for the man compelled to start life without financial resources if it were not possible for him to create capital for himself. Every man has the glorious privilege of work, and not the least of the rewards of labor is the satisfaction of producing something, and turning part of one's earning into capital. Don't misunderstand the meaning of the word capital. It isn't necessarily a big sum acquired at one stroke of fortune. In most cases it is the big aggregate of little sums, saved by slow degrees.

Money begets money but those without it sometimes complain against those who have it, forgetting that every great fortune was born of hardship and sacrifice on the part of the present possessor or somebody not very far back.

Such persons also seem to overlook the fact that by hard work and thrift they themselves can build up the nucleus of a fortune and put themselves in a position to enjoy the earning power of money.

Will you be able to live on your savings when you reach the time of life when you ought to retire from active work? Do you realize what you must do now to be able, later on, to live on your capital? For the average man the only way to reach that happy state is to save systematically a portion of his income week by week or month by month.

Banks exist for the express purpose of helping people save and care for their money.

Chicken Pudding.

From a raw fowl remove all the meat, free from skin and gristle and pass through the food chopper, using the fine knife. Put one-half cup of fine stale bread crumbs (no crust) in a saucepan with one cupful of milk and heat over a quick fire, stirring to a smooth paste. Take off and gradually beat in the chicken paste. Add one teaspoonful of salt, one-third teaspoonful of white pepper and the well beaten yolks of three eggs. Lightly mix in the whites whipped to a stiff froth. Turn into a buttered pudding dish, stand in a pan of boiling water and bake in a moderate oven for from 25 to 30 minutes.

Chocolate Fool.

One ounce of flour, one-quarter pound of grated chocolate, one-quarter pound of sugar, one teaspoonful vanilla extract, one gill of milk and four eggs. Stir the flour, milk, sugar and chocolate in a saucepan over the fire until it boils. Set to cool, and then stir in the yolks of the eggs. Replace on the fire and stir until thickening, taking care that it does not boil or it will curdle. Beat the whites of the eggs stiffly, and fold into the mixture when cool. Serve in a dish with whipped cream piled on the top.

SAILORS FROM THE WARRIOR AT NEW YORK.

Seven members of the crew of Frederick W. Vanderbilt's steam yacht Warrior, which struck a rock off Cape Augusta, on the east coast of Colombia, several weeks ago, arrived in New York on Hamburg-American liner Albingia Monday night. According to the sailors there was a chance of saving the Warrior when they left the ship 10 days ago. Captain McLean and two members of the crew were still on board, they said, and the Warrior was not leaking. The wreckers had moved her some distance.

The Silhouette Suit.

The coat of this green suit has a cutaway front, soft revers and enormous armholes that make the waistline look higher than it is. The skirt, gathered at the top, is draped inward at the foot and is not more than 45 inches wide.

LIVE THY LIFE.

[Florence Earle Coates, in Scribner's Magazine.]

Live thy life gallantly and undismayed;
Whatever harms may hide within the shade,
Be thou of fear, my spirit! more afraid,
In earthly pathways evil springeth rife;
But dread not thou, too much, or pain or strife
That plunge thee to the greater depths of life!

What though the storm-cloud holds the bolt that sears?
The eagle of the crag, that nothing fears,
Still, still is young after a hundred years!

LIVE AND LEARN.

[Lippincott's.]

One morning, at the breakfast table, Mr. Francis heard one of the children finding fault with something he was told to eat.

"Well, upon my word," said the father, "you children are getting too dainty for anything! So you think, Arthur, you should have jam and butter on the same piece of bread, do you? Well, when I was your age I was very glad to get dry bread to eat!"

"You have a much better time living with us, don't you, father?" queried little Arthur.

CAST THEIR FIRST BALLOT.

Chicago Women Vote at Election for Nomination of Alderman.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Women voters of Chicago cast their first ballot today at the primary election for the nomination of aldermanic candidates. The names of eight women candidates appeared on the ballots. More than 700 women acted as judges and clerks. Hundreds more, representing clubs and political organizations, were designated as watchers and were at the polling places at an early hour.

The women centered most of their attention on the First Ward comprising the business section, where Miss Marion Drake was the Progressive party candidate. If nominated, Miss Drake will oppose Alderman Bathhouse John Coughlin for election.

Election officials predict that from 50,000 to 75,000 of the 158,000 registered women voters will vote.

A STORY FOR GIRLS.

"Alma's Junior Year" the Third Volume in the Popular Hadley Hall Series.

"Alma's Junior Year," by Louise M. Breitenbach, is the third book in the Hadley Hall series. Those who have enjoyed the earlier stories will be glad to renew Alma's acquaintance and that of her boarding school friends, for they are a merry set of girls, who indulge in many laughable escapades and have jolly times together. Those who have not had the opportunity of reading the other volumes will find great pleasure in hearing of Alma's experiences for the first time. There are, of course, new girls to meet, new problems to be faced and new experiences in this volume, there being more difference in its treatment than between the first two books.

The following headings of chapters will give a glimpse of the good times and other adventures which fall to the lot of Hadley Hall girls: "The Festival of Dances," "Gilberta's Tea," "The House Party," "Three Gypsies," "The Ice Carnival," "Tommy's Gift Shop," "Dorothy's Motto," "Phyllis Goes Canoeing." The title of the last chapter is not given here, so that no hint may be had by the reader of the delightful surprise in store for Alma. Her dearest wish has come true and she has now— for further particulars read the book.

The illustrations are the work of John Goss.

MODERN STEPS DANCED.

Mrs. Fish Entertains for the Duke and Duchess of Manchester.

Monday night in New York Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish gave another in her series of dinners, accompanied by an entertainment by professionals, at her home. The entertainment marked the professional debut as an exponent of the tago, maxixe and other modern steps of Miss Margaret Hawkesworth, daughter of Mrs. H. W. Hawkesworth, who has prepared many of the spectacular features of the private and semi-public amusements of the season. Her partner was Mr. Basil Durant.

All the entertainers at Mrs. Fish's during the interval following dinner were dancers. Baroness von Rottenhan danced to the barcarolle from "The Tales of Hoffmann," wearing pink and silver studded with pearls; a flower dance to music by Mme. Charminade, and as an encore a "Serenade Coquette," in which she appeared as a page. Entirely different were the dances of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Anderson, the latter a bride and the daughter of a clergyman in Chicago. Mr. Anderson in conventional evening dress and Mrs. Anderson in a Poiret costume that included the ultra-modern trousers worn under a scant skirt open in the front went through the graceful movements of the minuet, gavotte, cotillion, [illegible] pavanne, gavotte and gaillard.

The entertainment was for the Duke and Duchess of Manchester.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

Average American Factory Just Awakening to Foreign Trade.

(Sioux City Tribune.)

An Eastern manufacturer has just secured an Italian contract calling for $1,000,000 worth of cast iron pipe for use in an aqueduct. The contract was secured at about $22 a ton in the face of competition from British, German and Belgian concerns. This should be and will be but a beginning for such American concerns. The foreign markets have scarcely been touched by American manufacturers.

There are some exceptions, such as the International Harvester Company, which has an annual foreign business of $50,000,000; the Pullman Company which supplies the world with its product, and the United States Steel Company, which successfully competes the world over in structural and railroad steel.

But the average American factory is just awakening to the possibilities of foreign trade. The Belgian steel mills, operating in a free market, have increased their output 50 per cent in the last eight years. Sweden with a population of less than 6,000,000, has [illegible] manufacturing concerns. These have been forced to go out after foreign trade, and so adept have they become as world merchandisers that as much as 95 per cent of their output sometimes goes abroad. To approximate the accomplishments of either of these examples of little nations would make this country fabulously rich and powerful.

The late J. P. Morgan was right in predicting that this nation hadn't commenced its real development, and asserting that the man who kept on the bear side of the market would sooner or later go broke as he would in betting against the inevitable.

PERSONALS.

.....The American Jewish Historical Society will try to determine whether Christopher Columbus was a Jew. Dr. Cyrus Adler, president of the society, in his annual address at the twenty-second annual meeting of the society in Philadelphia, said every effort would be made to secure exact information on the subject.

.....The German emperor has given a perpetual trophy to be awarded to the National Singing Festival held every three years under the auspices of the Northeastern Saengerbund, which embraces German singing societies in the eastern part of the United States. This trophy is to be a permanent "Wander-prize" in distinction from the Emperor's prize given in 1900.

.....The presidency of Johns Hopkins University, vacant since the resignation of Ira C. Remsen two years ago, is to be filled by Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, Eaton professor of administrative and municipal law at Columbia. Dr. Goodnow was graduated from Amherst in 1879 with the degree of bachelor of arts, received from Columbia the degree of bachelor of laws, and from Amherst, Columbia and Harvard the degree of doctor of philosophy. He has been at Columbia since 1883 and is now on a three years' leave of absence, serving as political adviser to the republic of China.

.....An estate valued at approximately $1,000,000, and consisting principally of real estate in Macon, was left by the late Senator A. O. Bacon. The will provides that, after the death of his wife and daughter, 75 acres in the city of Macon, valued at nearly $100,000, with the sum of $10,000, shall revert to the city for a park as a memorial to his twin sons, who died in infancy. His library of 5,000 volumes he left to his daughter and grandchildren. Although he and his wife had separated more than 25 years before, he referred to her tenderly in his will and left her the family residence and an annuity of $1800.

COMEDY CLEAN AND ENJOYABLE.

Zouave drill by whistle, marching movements, manual of arms, and a setting up drill with rifles. Another feature of this act was the appearance of the two children of Chief Yeoman Segure as Lieutenant Burr of the U. S. S. Marrimack and as the ship's bugler, the little ones, one of them scarcely five years old, showing a good stage presence and a taste for acting which was noticeable.

The entire company was stage and letter perfect, showing careful training and thorough appreciation of the necessity of giving every word or movement its proper attention, and there was no lacking in the smallest detail. The company Saturday evening gave a full dress rehearsal at the Training Station, for which invitations were sent to a favored few. All agreed that Chief Boatswain Davis and the entire company had something worth seeing, and the public performance at the Opera House warranted this feeling.

The program which was printed at the Training Station, was a four-leaf folder, with a four-leaf insert, in which the possibilities of the art were shown by three-color printing, and some excellent overlay work. On one of the pages of the cover was a picture in color of the old ship Constellation, on another the Constitution and on a third a full-page picture of a sailor, with the poem, "The Man behind the Gun." The program was the work of E. W. Swisher, printer, U. S. N.

There has been a good sale of tickets for the second performance this evening, and another large audience is assured.

BUILDING UP CAPITAL.

Banks Exist to Help People Save and Care for Their Money.

[American Bankers Association.]

"By thrift is meant simply that way of living which systematically transfers a portion of one's income to one's capital. It is not inconsistent with generosity; it is not synonym of niggardliness."—[Dr. Shailer Mathews.

A Pennsylvania girl has won the prize that the American society for thrift recently offered for the best definition of thrift. "Thrift," she wrote, "is management of your affairs in such a manner that the value of your possessions is constantly being increased." The girl has come pretty close to hitting the nail on the head and in simple language she has told the secret of how to create personal capital.

This would be a discouraging world for the man compelled to start life without financial resources if it were not possible for him to create capital for himself. Every man has the glorious privilege of work, and not the least of the rewards of labor is the satisfaction of producing something and turning part of one's earning into capital. Don't misunderstand the meaning of the word capital. It isn't necessarily a big sum acquired at one stroke of fortune. In most cases it is the big aggregate of little sums, saved by slow degrees.

Money begets money but those without it sometimes complain against those who have it, forgetting that every great fortune was born of hardship and sacrifice on the part of the present possessor or somebody not very far back.

Such persons also seem to overlook the fact that by hard work and thrift they themselves can build up the nucleus of a fortune and put themselves in a position to enjoy the earning power of money.

Will you be able to live on your savings when you reach the time of life when you ought to retire from active work? Do you realize what you must do now to be able, later on, to live on your capital? For the average man the only way to reach that happy state is to save systematically a portion of his income week by week or month by month.

Banks exist for the express purpose of helping people save and care for their money.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station

THE OYSTER FISHERMEN

The oyster men are asking more money from the state for the protection of shellfish from the inroads of starfish and other marine enemies and are also complaining of the attacks made upon the beds they lease by so called oyster pirates or the free fishermen They claim that the state does not give them as much protection as they should have in view of the amount of money they pay for the right to raise oysters on the beds they lease Apparently they make out a strong case and there seems no question that it is based upon good grounds for complaint and yet it is a fact that these men seem then to have some grievance and to [illegible] at war with the free fishermen Whether in truth [illegible] the one side as they would like to have the law makers and state officials believe may be doubted but at least the state owes these oyster men the consideration and provision for protection because of the fact that it accepts payment from them for the right to do business in the waters of the bay

The oyster industry in Rhode Island is one which must be reckoned with as of large [illegible] It brings a considerable income from the leasing of beds and [illegible] proportion of the valuable sources of the state Not many years ago this industry did not occupy [illegible] place in the business of the state but today it has grown to such proportions that it means much to the finances of the government and figures heavily in the grand total of the industries of the commonwealth For this reason it merits careful attention from the law makers and state officials The former owe it to these men to make the laws of such a kind as to give as full protection as possible in every way to the industry and the latter should advance the interests of the oyster men as much as can be done consistently without affecting adversely any other occupation and the public good.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, THEN AND NOW.

Recently a clergyman in a sermon on the notorious restlessness of public opinion expressed the wish that there were a man now like George Washington upon whose judgment sagacity far sightedness and patriotism all the people could rely and whom we could trust to lead us out of the wilderness of contradictory opinions into the promised land of happiness and prosperity Nevertheless if Washington were alive now it would be impossible to secure much attention for anything he said and wrote It is not without significance that Theodore Roosevelt who cannot make a speech or write an essay without dragging in Abraham Lincoln [illegible] times never mentions Washington

Washington would be denounced [illegible] wealth [illegible] a good deal of advantage to a man even as much of the wealth [illegible] his wife's John Adams liked Washington so little that several years after the father of his country died and after Adams [illegible] the bitterness of controversy might have been expected to subside he could only account for Washington's popularity on the ground of his handsome face his fine figure and his wife's wealth So in that day wealth did something to make a man interesting.

In these days too Washington would be denounced as an aristocrat and he certainly was no Democrat in the sense in which the Jeffersonians used the word or the Bryanites either No one more obnoxious to William Jennings Bryan than George Washington could be named Yet it was Washington's enormous force of character which carried the Revolutionary war through to success and won not only the fight for independence by the Americans but the fight against the royal prerogative by the British Whigs So similar was our quarrel with England to the political controversy in the latter country, that the American patriots were universally known as Whigs and the loyalists as Tories

Washington did command the public confidence to a remarkable degree, but he had as many enemies in public life as any national leader ever had The Pennsylvania legislature denounced him for putting his army into winter quarters in December 1777, though it did not supply its own troops with food and clothes so that they could have kept the field. His army was nearly always unfit to meet the British regulars and yet he took the aggressive on a number of occasions and Light Horse Harry Lee said he was a Marcellus rather than a Fabius in temperament Yet his Fabian policy was repeatedly the cause of denunciation in a Congress which could not recruit an army or keep it supplied.

The Conway cabal was shared by about half of Congress, which came within a single vote of removing him from the command and did put over him a board of war packed with his enemies Public sentiment and the force of Washington's own personality disintegrated this conspiracy within a few months

The success of Washington gave him enormous popularity for a time, but his attitude of friendliness toward England and distrust of the French revolution ists infuriated a large part of the people who sympathized—difficult as it may be for us to believe it—with the Reign of Terror and fought England chiefly after the treaty of peace According to the Jeffersonians he was no friend of the people he was an aristocrat a monarchist a representative of wealth The Jeffersonians said of him every thing that Theodore Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan would say of him now if they dared let go of themselves

Washington was as right in his domestic policy as he was in his foreign policy or in his conduct of the Revolutionary war but he was never the idol of the demagogues then or now

THE TANGO CRAZE

Perhaps nothing for the amusement of the people has been so much talked about and exploited in recent years as the new dances which all no matter by what name they are known come under the head of the Tango It is a craze which seems to have swept the country by storm and people who a few years ago would unblushingly have agreed that their dancing days were over are now learning the modern steps in all their variations turkey trotting gaby gliding and doing all the numerous stunts which go under the name of dance with the enthusiasm of youth Nothing takes precedence of this and things which were interesting enough to fill their days formerly are now forgotten or given up without regret so long as they can dance in the modern way to the Tango step and music

It is a question how long this craze will last or how long people will be content to fill their days and nights with this one thing but there is no doubt that eventually this devotion to dancing to the exclusion of all else which makes for amusement will come to an abrupt ending and its devotees will begin to realize how little they have gained and how much valuable time has been lost which might have been devoted to more healthful and pleasurable pursuits Dancing is considered one of the most healthful forms of exercise and affords amusement for all who indulge in its movements but to give up the whole of one's spare time to learning the numerous dances of the modern day exclusive of all else can only do harm in more ways than one There are too many things of interest which should be part of everybody's life to be ignored for something which can at best last only a short time and which seems to be doing a vast amount of harm as it induces many people to forget duties obligations and the higher things of life for the intoxication of the newest step and glide There may be no harm in the new steps and the new dances if done in the right way [illegible] but the real harm comes in the craze which seems to have swept both young and old off their feet.

The estimated appropriations presented to the Committee of Twenty five exceed by about $100 000 the probable income of the year and there must be considerable paring to bring the figures down to the revenue It is probable that two appropriations for sewers each for $10 000 will be provided for by note issues but that will [illegible] $45 000 still to be lopped off It is not well to add greatly to the note or bond issues as the city has already enough of these on its hands having provided for $1_ 000 for school purposes in addition to those already in existence The committee should go slow in making loans even if they are to be paid in a short time Each adds to the charges for interest and the annual appropriations.

Mayor Curley of Boston resigns his seat in Congress practically under compulsion The Republicans proposed to test his right to hold two offices and draw two salaries He was a member of Congress when elected mayor and had indicated that he proposed to hold his seat until the end of the present session in order to redeem pledges made to the people of his district and to save Boston the expense of a special election to name his successor Other Congressmen have tried to hold two offices and failed and Curley is no better than they

Since the new tariff law went into effect the United States has received beef, mutton and butter from Argentina, New Zealand and Australia, and now China is sending eggs A shipment of 3,000 dozen has been received in St Louis and they are offered at 26 cents with a good margin of profit for the retailer It is said that this is a part of a shipment of 300,000 dozen which China is sending to this country Eggs are also being imported from Russia Italy, Germany and France Where does the American producer come in?

William Sulzer has not yet given up the governorship of New York having instituted legal proceedings to regain the office from which he was removed by the court of impeachment last September If he cannot secure what he desires from the state courts, he will appeal to the United States Supreme Court

The current issue of the Daily News may be called the Dancing Gazette so full is it of pre-Lenten festivities.

Not much blizzard for Newport this time

ELECTRICS IN NEWPORT.

Development of the Road in Nearly Completed Quarter of a Century.

The first electric road in America was built 28 years ago and the coming summer Newport will have had electric passenger cars running for a quarter of a century The first line was built in Scranton, Pa, according to a recent historical article on electric railroading the first spike being driven in March 1886 Active progress in Newport began in March 1889 when the charter of the Newport Horse Railroad was revived and preparations early in August of the same year from Commercial wharf to the beach and has often been said to have been the first commercial road in America those previous being claimed to have been experimental lines including one in Boston and one in Lynn. This hardly seems to have been the fact for the Thompson-Houston company which built the road was already a large corporation

After the Scranton mile and a half of track came the construction of roads in Windsor Ontario and in Port Huron Mich in 1887 but they ran but a few weeks and went back to horses The same year electric cars were run in Montgomery Alabama, Lima Ohio and Richmond Va A little more than a year later the Montgomery plant burned and they went back to mules Derby Conn opened an electric road in 1888 but it was operated for the carrying of freight for a year It then changed hands and became the nucleus for the development of the Connecticut trolley lines In many of these cases the roads were changed from horses and so they were unlike that in Newport which was chartered as a horse road though its first rails were laid with the intention of running electric cars on them

The Newport line had run only six months when there was a bitter protest against the operation of cars on Bath road and Mayor Thomas Coggeshall in his inaugural suggested that the proper way to overcome the objection would be to widen Bath road an agitation which still continues the situation not having been properly met yet. The first rights in Newport gave the company the privilege of operating a double track on Franklin street but the two tracks were never installed The old cars with rheostat control would look very strange here today though in Boston there are today hundreds of them in use each summer

ANTARCTIC TRIP PLANNED.

Swedish Committee to Promote Another Expedition in 1915

The Swedish Antarctic committee an association founded last year by former polar explorers and persons interested in polar exploration with Admiral Palander at its head and Professors Nordenskjold, Andersson De Geer Nathorst and Lonnberg among its members has planned a new Swedish expedition to the Antarctic regions which is to start in the autumn of 1915

It is proposed that the expedition should establish its base at Graham Land somewhere on the shores of Antarctic sound, the scene of Professor Nordenskjold's and Professor Andersson's former exploits and should spend five years in exploring the country The station at Graham Land will be provided with wooden houses a full complement of instruments for meteorology and wireless telegraphy dog teams and motor boats Communication with the outer world will be kept up by special arrangements with the whaling ships which frequent the coasts of Graham Land every season and which will re provision the station The expedition will consist of 10 scientific men well acquainted with the Antarctic regions

The Antarctic committee estimates the cost of the expedition at $75 000 and the government has included a grant of half that amount in the estimates

A JOKE ON THE FISHERMEN

[Wide World]

The waters of the Great Salt Lake Utah are the most heavily impregnated with salt of any large body of water in the world save perhaps the Dead Sea in Palestine No life exists in the lake except a diminutive form of shrimp never exceeding one third in h m length Residents of Utah are thoroughly familiar with this fact and frequently play pranks on visitors to the lake who have not learned the mysteries of the Great Salt Lake Some time ago the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Car Workers of America held their convention in Salt Lake City and local members of the organization invited a number of distinguished visitors to go fishing in the Great Salt Lake After casting their lines most dexterously for nearly an hour and cursing their ill luck in not getting a rise the victims were told of the joke It is said that other sufferers who fished for nearly three hours are still hunting for the jokers who landed them

INTERESTED IN SUBJECTS.

King Alfonso a Patron of Scheme for Workingmen's Dwellings.

One of the many practical forms in which King Alfonso of Spain shows his interest in his poorer subjects is a scheme for workmen's dwellings The basis for royal action was a donation of $20 000 given by a Spanish resident in Peru Senor Pastor The king has added to this from the privy purse, the government has granted a subvention and the municipality of Seville has given a free site and granted exemption of taxation representing a saving of 25 per cent on the rental value

The feature of the scheme consists in the erection of dwellings on mortgage. A beginning is being made by the construction of three groups of three story houses situated in a suburb of Seville in proximity to the electricity works Each house will contain lodgings for some 30 families An artesian well will be sunk on the premises and a cinematograph will be installed for educational purposes The work is proceeding actively and it is hoped to inaugurate the buildings in early spring With the experience acquired at Seville the king proposes to extend the benefits to workmen in Madrid and Saragossa and on a smaller scale to

ROYAL SERVANTS.

Footmen Must be Six Feet in Height and Have Good Looks.

[Tit-Bits]

Buckingham Palace, like nearly every other household, has been feeling the dearth of maid servants Royal registry offices are now a necessity and those so honored are generally conducted by persons who have lived in the palace or have other high connections The late stewards to the Marquess of Dufferin and the Earl of Crewe, for instance, regularly supply Buckingham Palace and Marlborough House with both men and maid servants They are held responsible for the people they supply to the royal household, and no one is ever sent who has not lived in good houses, and has at least two years' character. Footmen under butlers—indeed, all men in livery—must be six feet in height and the better looking they are the better chance they have of securing a post Footmen who have served at embassies in other countries, and can speak one or two foreign languages, are favored Only British servants are engaged The men must be between the ages of 22 and 28, and the women between 18 and 23

The wages are not better to begin with than in other households, but there are better allowances—in liveries and in plain clothes There is the chance too, of promotion to something better A head housemaid might get £50 a year and of course there is a pension for every servant who has served a certain number of years Ten years is generally considered the minimum time for a pension, but when a case of misfortune occurs an application is made to the king, who approves a special grant The servants have plenty of work to do in the palace but ample leisure and good quarters and living The maids are required to dress alike—in colored prints

The state porters and marshal men are engaged directly by the king on warrant When a vacancy occurs every one holding an office in the palace has a right to name a candidate to the lord steward The latter sifts the applications, and submits the result to the king The ordinary household servants are resident, with the exception of a personal housemaid, who travels with the royal family

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

THE OYSTER FISHERMEN.

The oyster men are asking more money from the state for the protection of shellfish from the inroads of starfish and other marine enemies, and are also complaining of the attacks made upon the beds they lease by so-called oyster pirates, or the free fishermen. They claim that the state does not give them as much protection as they should have, in view of the amount of money they pay for the right to raise oysters on the beds they lease. Apparently they make out a strong case and there seems no question that it is based upon good grounds for complaint, and yet it is a fact that these men seem often to have some grievance and to be over at war with the free fishermen. Whether the fault is altogether on one side, as they would like to have the law makers and state officials believe may be doubted; but at least the state owes these oyster men consideration and provision for protection, because of the fact that it accepts payment from them for the right to do business in the waters of the bay.

The oyster industry in Rhode Island is one which must be reckoned with as of large proportions. It brings a considerable income from the leasing of beds and forms a large proportion of the valuable resources of the state. Not many years ago this industry did not occupy a very large place in the business of the state, but today it has grown to such proportions that it means much to the resources of the government and figures heavily in the grand total of the industries of the commonwealth. For this reason it merits careful attention from the law makers and state officials. The former owe it to these men to make the laws of such a kind as to give as full protection as possible in every way to the industry, and the latter should advance the interests of the oyster men as much as can be done consistently without affecting adversely any other occupation and the public good.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, THEN AND NOW.

Recently a clergyman in a sermon on the notorious restlessness of public opinion expressed the wish that there were a man now, like George Washington, upon whose judgment, sagacity, far-sightedness and patriotism all the people could rely and whom we could trust to lead us out of the wilderness of contradictory opinions into the promised land of happiness and prosperity. Nevertheless, if Washington were alive now it would be impossible to secure much attention for anything he said and wrote. It is not without significance that Theodore Roosevelt, who cannot make a speech or write an essay without dragging in Abraham Lincoln a dozen times, never mentions Washington.

Washington would be denounced today as a plutocrat. In his day he was the richest man in the colonies. There were not many people who objected to wealth then. In fact, it was regarded as a good deal of advantage to a man, even if much of the wealth were his wife's. John Adams liked Washington so little that several years after the father of his country died and after Adams's political career had closed and the bitterness of controversy might have been expected to subside, he could only account for Washington's popularity on the ground of his handsome face, his fine figure and his wife's wealth. So in this day wealth did something to make a man interesting.

In these days, too, Washington would be denounced as an aristocrat, and he certainly was no Democrat in the sense in which the Jeffersonians used the word, or the Bryanites either. No one more obnoxious to William Jennings Bryan than George Washington could be named. Yet it was Washington's enormous force of character which carried the Revolutionary war through to success and won for only the fight for independence by the Americans but the fight against the royal prerogative by the British Whigs. So similar was our quarrel with England to the political controversy in the latter country, that the American patriots were universally known as Whigs and the loyalists as Tories.

Washington did command the public confidence to a remarkable degree, but he had as many enemies in public life as any national leader ever had. The Pennsylvania legislature denounced him for putting his army into winter quarters in December, 1777, though it did not supply its own troops with food and clothes, so that they could have kept the field. His army was nearly always unfit to meet the British regulars, and yet he took the aggressive on a number of occasions and Light Horse Harry Lee said he was a Marcellus rather than a Fabius in temperament. Yet his "Fabian policy" was repeatedly the cause of denunciation in a Congress which could not recruit an army or keep it supplied.

The Conway cabal was shared by about half of Congress, which came within a single vote of removing him from the command and did put over him a board of war packed with his enemies. Public sentiment and the force of Washington's own personality disintegrated this conspiracy within a few months.

The success of Washington gave him enormous popularity for a time, but his attitude of friendliness toward England and distrust of the French revolutionists infuriated a large part of the people who sympathized—difficult as it may be for us to believe it—with the Reign of Terror and fought England chiefly after the treaty of peace. According to the Jeffersonians he was no friend of the people, he was an aristocrat, a monarchist, a representative of wealth. The Jeffersonians said of him every thing that Theodore Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan would say of him now if they dared let go of themselves.

Washington was as right in his domestic policy as he was in his foreign policy or in his conduct of the Revolutionary war, but he was never the idol of the demagogues, then or now.

THE TANGO CRAZE.

Perhaps nothing for the amusement of the people has been so much talked about and exploited in recent years as the new dances which all, no matter by what name they are known, come under the head of the "Tango." It is a craze which seems to have swept the country by storm, and people who a few years ago would unblushingly have agreed that their dancing days were over are now learning the modern steps in all their variations, turkey-trotting, gaby-gliding and doing all the numerous stunts which go under the name of dance with the enthusiasm of youth. Nothing takes precedence of this and things which were interesting enough to fill their days formerly are now forgotten or given up without regret, so long as they can dance in the modern way to the Tango step and music.

It is a question how long this craze will last or how long people will be content to fill their days and nights with this one thing, but there is no doubt that eventually this devotion to dancing to the exclusion of all else which makes for amusement will come to an abrupt ending and its devotees will begin to realize how little they have gained and how much valuable time has been lost which might have been devoted to more healthful and pleasurable pursuits. Dancing is considered one of the most healthful forms of exercise, and affords amusement for all who indulge in its movements, but to give up the whole of one's spare time to learning the numerous dances of the modern day, exclusive of all else, can only do harm in more ways than one. There are too many things of interest which should be part of everybody's life to be ignored for something which can at best last only a short time and which seems to be doing a vast amount of harm as it induces many people to forget duties, obligations and the higher things of life for the intoxication of the newest step and glide. There may be no harm in the new steps and the new dances if done in the right way, any more than in years gone by, but the real harm comes in the craze, which seems to have swept both young and old off their feet.

The estimated appropriations presented to the Committee of Twenty-Five exceed by about $100,000 the probable income of the year, and there must be considerable paring to bring the figures down to the revenue. It is probable that two appropriations for sewers, each for $10,000 will be provided for by note issues, but that will leave $80,000 still to be lopped off. It is not well to add greatly to the note or bond issues, as the city has already enough of these on its hands, having provided for $125,000 for school purposes in addition to those already in existence. The committee should go slow in making loans, even if they are to be paid in a short time. Each adds to the charges for interest and the annual appropriations.

Mayor Curley of Boston resigns his seat in Congress practically under compulsion. The Republicans proposed to test his right to hold two offices and draw two salaries. He was a member of Congress when elected mayor, and had indicated that he proposed to hold his seat until the end of the present session in order to redeem pledges made to the people of his district and to save Boston the expense of a special election to name his successor. Other Congressmen have tried to hold two offices and failed, and Curley is no better than they.

Since the new tariff law went into effect the United States has received beef, mutton and butter from Argentina, New Zealand and Australia, and now China is sending eggs. A shipment of 3,000 dozen has been received in St. Louis and they are offered at 26 cents, with a good margin of profit for the retailer. It is said that this is a part of a shipment of 300,000 dozen which China is sending to this country. Eggs are also being imported from Russia, Italy, Germany and France. Where does the American producer come in?

William Sulzer has not yet given up the governorship of New York, having instituted legal proceedings to regain the office from which he was removed by the court of impeachment last September. If he cannot secure what he desires from the state courts, he will appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

The current issue of the Daily News may be called the Dancing Gazette, so full is it of pre-Lenten festivities.

Not much blizzard for Newport this time.

ELECTRICS IN NEWPORT.

Development of the Road in Nearly Completed Quarter of a Century.

The first electric road in America was built 28 years ago, and the coming summer Newport will have had electric passenger cars running for a quarter of a century. The first line was built in Scranton, Pa., according to a recent historical article on electric railroading the finest spike being driven in March, 1886. Active progress in Newport began in March, 1889, when the charter of the Newport Horse Railroad was revived and preparations early in August of the same year, from Commercial wharf to the beach and has often been said to have been the first commercial road in America, those previous being claimed to have been experimental lines, including one in Boston and one in Lynn. This hardly seems to have been the fact, for the Thompson-Houston company, which built the road, was already a large corporation.

After the Scranton mile and a half of track came the construction of roads in Windsor, Ontario, and in Port Huron, Mich., in 1887, but they ran but a few weeks and went back to horses. The same year electric cars were run in Montgomery, Alabama, Lima, Ohio, and Richmond, Va. A little more than a year later the Montgomery plant burned and they went back to mules. Derby, Conn., opened an electric road in 1888, but it was operated for the carrying of freight for a year. It then changed hands and became the nucleus for the development of the Connecticut trolley lines. In many of these cases the roads were changed from horses, and so they were unlike that in Newport, which was chartered as a horse road though its first rails were laid with the intention of running electric cars on them.

The Newport line had run only six months when there was a bitter protest against the operation of cars on Bath road and Mayor Thomas Coggeshall in his inaugural suggested that the proper way to overcome the objection would be to widen Bath road an agitation which still continues, the situation not having been properly met yet. The first rights in Newport gave the company the privilege of operating a double track on Franklin street, but the two tracks were never installed. The old cars with reostate control would look very strange here today, though in Boston there are today hundreds of them in use each summer.

ANTARCTIC TRIP PLANNED.

Swedish Committee to Promote Another Expedition in 1915.

The Swedish Antarctic committee, an association founded last year by former polar explorers and persons interested in polar exploration, with Admiral Palander at its head, and Professors Nordenskjold, Andersson, De Geer, Nathorst and Lonnberg among its members, has planned a new Swedish expedition to the Antarctic regions, which is to start in the autumn of 1915.

It is proposed that the expedition should establish its base at Graham Land, somewhere on the shores of Antarctic sound, the scene of Professor Nordenskjold's and Professor Andersson's former exploits, and should spend five years in exploring the country. The station at Graham Land will be provided with wooden houses, a full complement of instruments for meteorology and wireless telegraphy, dog teams and motor boats. Communication with the outer world will be kept up by special arrangements with the whaling ships which frequent the coasts of Graham Land every season, and which will re-provision the station. The expedition will consist of 10 scientific men well acquainted with the Antarctic regions.

The Antarctic committee estimates the cost of the expedition at $75,000, and the government has included a grant of half that amount in the estimates.

A JOKE ON THE FISHERMEN.

[Wide World.]

The waters of the Great Salt Lake, Utah, are the most heavily impregnated with salt of any large body of water in the world, save perhaps the Dead Sea in Palestine. No life exists in the lake except a diminutive form of shrimp, never exceeding one third inch in length. Residents of Utah are thoroughly familiar with this fact, and frequently play pranks on visitors to the city who have not learned the mysteries of the Great Salt Lake. Some time ago the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Car Workers of America held their convention in Salt Lake City, and local members of the organization induced a number of distinguished visitors to "go fishing" in the Great Salt Lake. After casting their lines most dexterously for nearly an hour and cursing their ill-luck in not getting a "rise," the victims were told of the joke. It is said that other sufferers, who "fished" for nearly three hours, are still hunting for the jokers who "landed" them.

Suffrage Whist at Bristol Ferry a Pleasant and Well-Attended Affair.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The suffrage whist held with Miss Cora Mitchel of Bristol Ferry was a pleasant affair and considering the state of the roads well attended. Six tables were played, two in Fall River and four at Miss Mitchel's. Mrs. H. C. Cook, who had taken two tables, thought the traveling too bad to attempt the trip and entertained the two at her own home in Fall River.

Mrs. J. M. Eldredge had Mrs. May, Miss Louise Remington of Fall River and Mrs. Porter at her table; Mrs. May took the prize, a covered Indian basket, which she presented to Mrs. Winsor, who did not play.

Miss Lillian Wheeler at her table had Mrs. Walter B. Chase, Mrs. Crawford and Mrs Ethel DeBlois of Newport; Mrs. DeBlois took the prize, a purse.

At Mrs. Berton W. Storrs' table were Mrs. Alfred J. Mott, Miss Harriet Frances Sanford and Miss Gertrude E. Macomber; Miss Sanford took the prize, a salad dish.

Mrs. Letitia Lawton had at her table Mrs. William B. Clarke, Miss Grace Hicks and Mrs. William F. Brayton; here was no prize at this table.

Coffee and fancy crackers were served. There were a few guests present, who did not play, among them Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott. The decorations were daffodils and yellow and white streamers, the suffrage colors.

Mr. and Mrs B. Percival Sherman gave a whist party at their home on Allen street, at which four tables were played. Mrs. Joseph D. Chase took the women's first prize, handkerchiefs, and Mr. Alfred C. Hall the men's prize, a necktie. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherman took the consolation prizes, a match safe and dolly, respectively. Ice cream, cake and sweet cider, made that day, proved pleasing refreshments.

Rev. Anson B. Howard, the rector, preached at St. Paul's Sunday morning from Hosea VI:1-3.

Rev. James M. Estes preached at the Friends' Church on "It pays to be right with God," his text being Isaiah LXXII:17. The church quartet—Miss A. Ellis Macomber, Mrs. W. J. H. Fowle and Messrs Emerson and Ray Tyler—sang "Leaning on Jesus." There was no meeting in the evening on account of the bad walking and threatening weather.

Rev. John Wadsworth preached Sunday morning from Matthew VII:16, and in the evening from Ezekiel IX:8. Miss Alice Natalie Brayton and Miss Emily Pierce sang a duet, "How could it be but Jesus?" and Miss Ruth Lahan of Fall River sang "Ave Maria" by Lound and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought". Miss Lahan is only 11 years old.

For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. John M. Eldredge and Miss Louise Remington, whose birthdays come near together, have celebrated them with each other at the Eldredge home. This year a birthday dinner and card party was held.

The Newport county local Granges attended by invitation of Rev. E. E. Wells, chaplain of Aquidneck Grange and pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Middletown, service at his church on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Chace of Warren are visiting relatives in town.

The public schools were closed two days last week, Tuesday on account of the storm and Friday being the regular day for visiting schools.

Mrs. Joseph Lockhart of Providence, formerly of this town, is visiting her cousin Mrs. James Crosby.

Mr. and Mrs. Valdon Andrews and their three children are visiting Mrs. Andrews's parents, Captain and Mrs. Henry J. Nickerson, in Tiverton.

INTERESTED IN SUBJECTS.

King Alfonso a Patron of Scheme for Workingmen's Dwellings.

One of the many practical forms in which King Alfonso of Spain shows his interest in his poorer subjects is a scheme for workmen's dwellings. The basis for royal action was a donation of $30,000, given by a Spanish resident in Peru, Senor Pastor. The king has added to this from the privy purse, the government has granted a subvention and the municipality of Seville has given a free site and granted exemption of taxation, representing a saving of 25 per cent on the rental value.

The feature of the scheme consists in the erection of dwellings on mortgage. A beginning is being made by the construction of three groups of three-story houses situated in a suburb of Seville, in proximity to the electricity works. Each house will contain lodgings for some 30 families. An artesian well will be sunk on the premises and a cinematograph will be installed for educational purposes. The work is proceeding actively, and it is hoped to inaugurate the buildings in early spring. With the experience acquired at Seville, the king proposes to extend the benefits to workmen in Madrid and Saragossa and, on a smaller scale, to employes in the royal domains of Elpardo and Aranjuez.

ROYAL SERVANTS.

Footmen Must be Six Feet in Height and Have Good Looks.

[Tit-Bits.]

Buckingham Palace, like nearly every other household, has been feeling the dearth of maid servants. Royal registry offices are now a necessity, and those so honored are generally conducted by persons who have lived in the palace or have other high connections. The late stewards to the Marquess of Dufferin and the Earl of Crewe, for instance, regularly supply Buckingham Palace and Marborough House with both men and maid servants. They are held responsible for the people they supply to the royal household, and no one is ever sent who has not lived in good houses, and has at least two years' character. Footmen, under butlers—indeed, all men in livery—must be six feet in height, and the better looking they are the better chance they have of securing a post. Footmen who have served at embassies in other countries, and can speak one or two foreign languages, are favored. Only British servants are engaged. The men must be between the ages of 22 and 28, and the women between 15 and 22.

The wages are not better to begin with than in other households, but there are better allowances—in liveries and in plain clothes. There is the chance, too, of promotion to something better. A head housemaid might get £50 a year, and of course there is a pension for every servant who has served a certain number of years. Ten years is generally considered the minimum time for a pension, but when a case of misfortune occurs an application is made to the king, who approves a special grant. The servants have plenty of work to do in the palace, but ample leisure and good quarters and living. The maids are required to dress alike—in colored prints.

The state porters and marshal men are engaged directly by the king on warrant. When a vacancy occurs every one holding an office in the palace has a right to name a candidate to the lord steward. The latter sifts the applications, and submits the result to the king. The ordinary household servants are resident, with the exception of a personal housemaid, who travels with the royal family.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Forecast for southern New England—Fair, and continued cold tonight; Wednesday, fair, slowly rising temperature; moderate northerly winds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Forecast for northern New England—Fair and continued cold tonight; Wednesday, fair and warmer; light variable winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The great area of high pressure that has been moving eastward across the country has caused a marked increase in pressure in the Northeast and crowded the southern disturbance out to sea. The lowest reading at the coast stations is at Hatteras, N. C. The barometer is high at all stations from central Ontario southwest to Texas. Except for a few scattered snow flurries from the interior part of the Middle Atlantic states westward to western Tennessee, fair weather, with generally clear sky, prevails everywhere east of the Rockies.

The northerly winds over New England have caused low temperatures to prevail. The lowest reported last night was 30 degrees below zero at Northfield, Vt. Zero or below is reported westward to central Nebraska. In New York city at 8 a. m. it was 2; Boston 3, Washington 10, Jacksonville 62, St. Louis 6, Chicago 18, St. Paul 2 below, Bismarck zero, Kansas City 8, Denver 22, Des Moines zero, Salt Lake City 34, San Francisco 50, and Portland, Oregon, 48.

NOT MUCH OF A STORM.

Some Changes in Temperature —Ice Houses Nearly Filled to Limit.

That storm must have struck Newport. At least, the wind blew from the northeast, just as the flags showed, and the snow fell and the mercury dropped. However, it was not much of a storm, after all. Most of it must have missed Newport, and Newport is glad that it did; in fact, it would feel gladder if it had entirely missed the place.

The temperature did not need to drop much, but it did drop some, and along about 10 p. m. Monday the snow began to fall. Began is the word, for one needed to look close to see any. This morning there was another mantle over the other snow. The number of the snowstorm is lost, there have been so many of them, but this was another. In places the snow seemed fully a quarter of an inch deep this morning. There was practically no wind, but still it drifted some; that is why in places it was a quarter of an inch deep. In places it was about as thick as a sheet of thin paper. The flakes were very small.

The mercury did better than the snow, for it dropped until the thermometer at the pumping station recorded 8 at 6 o'clock and 6 at 7 o'clock. Then it began to go up. The News thermometer stood at 9 at 6:30 and 7 at 8. After noon the temperature went down some and it looked as if it might be another cold night.

The slush ice has again begun to form in the slips along the harbor front, and up at Wickford ice is forming in the harbor. It is 11 inches thick on the ponds where the companies are working, and they wish they had that eight-inch ice out of the houses, so they could fill up with thicker. The Tasso house was filled by 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and stacking was begun. It is expected that the Lily pond house will be filled by tonight. It will be filled to the limit; every cake which can be stowed in the house will be there when the filling stops. The work at the Green End houses of the Newport company is progressing steadily and good 11-inch ice is being hustled in. It fills faster than the thin ice and handles better.

While the temperature this morning was 12 degrees below the mark for Monday at 8 o'clock there was more melting of snow today. The sun was doing good work and helping to ruin the sleighing and sledding. This is the eleventh consecutive day of sleighing, a record one will need to go back some years to beat. Also, the small boy and girl have no complaint about lack of sledding.

FOR A SLEDDING CARNIVAL.

Mr. Slocum of the Y. M. C. A. Will Receive Entries Until Friday.

Now that there is good sledding, but no place in town where it is safe to have a long coast without danger from passing street cars, it has been suggested that a sledding carnival be arranged, to take place Saturday afternoon, when the boys and girls will have leisure time, and that the course be Honyman hill in Middletown, where there is a long and safe hill where the sledders can have all the going they want. Mr. P. H. Slocum of the Young Men's Christian Association has consented to take charge of such a carnival if there is a disposition to have some racing. There would be double runners, flexible flyers, bob sleds and girls sleds, and time and distance competitions could be held, depending on what would suit the contestants.

To ascertain if there is a disposition to take part in such a contest, and yet have time to arrange therefor entries should be made to Mr. Slocum at the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium not later than Friday evening, giving name of entry and size and kind of sled. If sufficient entries are made the competition can take place, if the snow lasts, and it looks pretty safe to predict that it will last.

Perhaps some more accessible place can be suggested, where it will be safe to slide, but at the outset it seemed that the one named is the best.

RELIEF FOR GAME BIRDS.

Feeding Stations for Starving Creatures, in Tiverton and Little Compton.

Already there have been two relief expeditions for the game birds in Tiverton and Little Compton since the snow fell, and two more are booked, one for Wednesday and another for Sunday, while if the trips can be financed they will be continued until the snow goes. Up to date $32.75 has been subscribed for the relief and each trip costs $15 for vehicles, besides the price of the grain put out, the traveling expenses to Tiverton and the time of the men who participate in the relief work in regard to this appeal for funds, it is stated that the commissioners last year expended $1,3000, which was $300 more than they really had, and as it is not yet the time for new licenses to be taken out in any number the commissioners are without funds to meet the present emergency.

The relief parties from here have divided into three parties in Tiverton and taken separate localities. Two sleighs and an automobile have been used, and it has been a hard task to go through the snow-locked roads, often the men having to push ahead on foot while the conveyances go around. The work of distributing grain for the starved birds requires some one who is acquainted with the woods and the ways of birds. The plan which is adopted is that of shoveling away the snow, building a shelter over the bare spot where the grain is placed, and running leads of grain to it. Wherever such feeding stations have been prepared and re-visited it has been found that the birds have found them.

Sunday the relief parties saw large numbers of starving birds—quail, partridges, meadow larks, woodpeckers and others—and the tracks of other game, such as rabbits and foxes, and it was very interesting to note how these creatures of the wild are scouring the country for something to eat in this severe winter.

The state commission is doing all it can, but its powers are limited and we must be co-operation Senator Wilbour of Little Compton, who has been watching the efforts of the Newport Game Association, has become interested, and is conducting a campaign about his locality. JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The third round in the third series of whists at the Bayside Club was played Monday evening, resulting in team No. 3 winning and taking the lead. The scores: No. 1, won 53, total 173; No. 2, won 73, total 185; No. 3, won 49, total 159.

The northerly wind Monday night broke up the ice in Dutch Island harbor and for the first time in two weeks the boat to and from Fort Greble is able to make its trips on time, there being no ice in the north end of the harbor. Sheffield's pond and the lower part of the harbor on a line from the ferry landing to the head of the wharf at Fort Getty are still one unbroken sheet of ice.

Mr Arnold Tefft, who has been visiting his grandfather, Mr. E. N. Tefft, has returned to New Bedford, Mass.

There was another drop in the mercury during the night and this morning it stood at 6 above.

Talbot, in Dorchester, Mass where he makes his permanent home Dr. Talbot is in excellent health, and much enjoys visits and correspondence with a wide circlee of devoted friends —Complaint is made that there is a five-foot snow drift on Longwood avenue. Longwood avenue, which is not on the city atlas, must have some size, for the drifts are five feet high and that means a record.

—The walk to the Jamestown ferry landing on Ferry wharf may be no worse than the one in Jamestown but it is evident that the application of a little ashes would greatly improve its qualities so far as pedestrians are concerned.

—Middletown furnished material for the fire department of the city Monday night, when one of its inhabitant was picked up. This morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and at last reports was awaiting the arrival of funds.

—While working in the Lily pond icehouse Sunday afternoon Thomas Kelcher was injured by a sliding cake of ice catching him on the ankle It was feared at first that his ankle was broken, but after reaching the hospital Dr Stewart, who examined the ankle, said he had escaped with bruises and no bones were broken.

Previous to the address Mayor George Wright, brother-in-law of Mrs. Herbert Wright, spoke.

—Secretary Stokes, with the boys from the local Young Men's Christian Association who have been in attendance at the conference at Lawrence, Mass., returned home Monday evening. There were 700 delegates from Rhode Island and Massachusetts, with about a score of committee positions to be dealt out. Carlton Lawton was honored by a place on the committee on resolutions.

—There was some ice breaking Monday afternoon, when what seemed the beginning of a berg was broken away from the southeast corner of the Five and Ten Cent Store. The spout was broken and the water from the roof had frozen out until it was from two to three feet thick from the building The roadway of Swan avenue was well filled with broken ice after the breaking was done.

—Complaint is heard of the condition of Broadway in the Vernon Avenue section On one side is the sewer ditch, which could not be filled because the winter weather stopped the operations, and on the other side a deep snowdrift. This leaves only the centre of the road, where the car tracks run, and the sleighing is not very good. There has been at least one accident from mixing up runners with the car tracks

—If the Committee of Twenty-Five does not finish its business tonight the meeting of the Council will be the latest ever held. The times of meetings of the Council since the beginning have been: 1907, February 15; 1908, February 28; 1909, March 12; 1910, March 9; 1911, March 6; 1912, March 12, 1913, March 3. If the committee finishes tonight the Council might meet March 12 or 13, which would be as late or later than ever.

OUT-OF-TOWN RUNAWAYS.

Middletown and Portsmouth Horses With Speed Mania Stopped.

The speed mania seems to have caught the out-of-town horses. Evidently the roads have so improved that all their strength is not exhausted in coming to town, and they wish to show some speed here.

Nathan Brown's was the first entered. It was just after 9 and the location was Thames street. Mr Brown was tossed out and the horse proceeded up Thames street at a good rate, of which Middletown had no occasion to be ashamed The onlookers expected the horse and sleigh would be stopped at least at Washington square, but the runaway went right by without varying his speed. Officer Coggeshall was not on duty; that's all. Nothing in the form of a vehicle was struck on the way up and no milk was lost, until at Marlborough street a can was thrown out.

Later, about 11 o'clock Portsmouth was in the running. Officer Ring stopped Frank Paquin's horse on Broadway about that time. The horse was attached only to a pair of shafts, and what had happened before that time was not known. It was evident that something had happened out of town.

FOR FREE ENTRY OF JEWELS

Mrs. May Van Alen Thompson Appeals to Board of General Appraisers.

Mrs. May Van Alen Thompson, wife of Griswold Thompson, through her counsel, James F. Curtis, formerly assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has appealed to the board of United States general appraisers to grant free entry to her jewels and other personal effects, which were detained and assessed at full duty at the time of Mrs. Thompson's arrival in Boston from Europe last fall.

The appeal takes the form of a brief filed by Mr. Curtis with the general appraisers. As the wife of an American citizen, the customs officials in Boston declined to accept Mrs. Thompson's declaration that she was a nonresident of this country within the meaning of the tariff law, and compelled her to make out her declaration on the blank provided for American citizens returning from abroad.

In his brief Mr. Curtis says that Mrs. Thompson is not a resident of the United States, not having abandoned her residence in England, and that neither she nor her husband has adopted any place as a permanent home; that she is not a resident of the United States returning from abroad, as she never started upon any journey originating here, and that the articles in question were not acquired abroad by her as a resident of the United States, she having purchased them all before her marriage.

William L. Wemple, assistant attorney general in charge of tariff litigation, files a brief in which he disputes the contentions put forth in behalf of Mrs. Thompson.

NOT MUCH OF A STORM.

Some Changes in Temperature —Ice Houses Nearly Filled to Limit.

That storm must have struck Newport. At least, the wind blew from the northeast, just as the flags showed, and the snow fell and the mercury dropped. However, it was not much of a storm, after all. Most of it must have missed Newport, and Newport is glad that it did; in fact, it would feel gladder if it had entirely missed the place.

The temperature did not need to drop much, but it did drop some, and along about 10 p. m. Monday the snow began to fall. Began is the word, for one needed to look close to see any. This morning there was another mantle over the other snow. The number of the snowstorm is lost, there have been so many of them, but this was another. In places the snow seemed fully a quarter of an inch deep this morning. There was practically no wind, but still it drifted some; that is why in places it was a quarter of an inch deep. In places it was about as thick as a sheet of thin paper. The flakes were very small.

The mercury did better than the snow, for it dropped until the thermometer at the pumping station recorded 8 at 6 o'clock and 6 at 7 o'clock. Then it began to go up. The News thermometer stood at 9 at 6:30 and 7 at 8. After noon the temperature went down some and it looked as if it might be another cold night.

The slush ice has again begun to form in the slips along the harbor front, and up at Wickford ice is forming in the harbor. It is 11 inches thick on the ponds where the companies are working, and they wish they had that eight-inch ice out of the houses, so they could fill up with thicker. The Tasso house was filled by 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and stacking was begun. It is expected that the Lily pond house will be filled by tonight. It will be filled to the limit; every cake which can be stowed in the house will be there when the filling stops. The work at the Green End houses of the Newport company is progressing steadily and good 11-inch ice is being hustled in. It fills faster than the thin ice and handles better.

While the temperature this morning was 12 degrees below the mark for Monday at 8 o'clock there was more melting of snow today. The sun was doing good work and helping to ruin the sleighing and sledding. This is the eleventh consecutive day of sleighing, a record one will need to go back some years to beat. Also, the small boy and girl have no complaint about lack of sledding.

FOR A SLEDDING CARNIVAL.

Mr. Slocum of the Y. M. C. A. Will Receive Entries Until Friday.

Now that there is good sledding, but no place in town where it is safe to have a long coast without danger from passing street cars, it has been suggested that a sledding carnival be arranged, to take place Saturday afternoon, when the boys and girls will have leisure time, and that the course be Honyman hill in Middletown, where there is a long and safe hill where the sledders can have all the going they want. Mr. P. H. Slocum of the Young Men's Christian Association has consented to take charge of such a carnival; if there is a disposition to have some racing. There would be double runners, flexible flyers, bob sleds and girls sleds, and time and distance competitions could be held, depending on what would suit the contestants.

To ascertain if there is a disposition to take part in such a contest, and yet have time to arrange therefor entries should be made to Mr. Slocum at the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium not later than Friday evening, giving name of entry and size and kind of sled. If sufficient entries are made the competition can take place, if the snow lasts, and it looks pretty safe to predict that it will last.

Perhaps some more accessible place can be suggested, where it will be safe to slide, but at the outset it seemed that the one named is the best.

—Complaint is heard of the condition of Broadway in the Vernon Avenue section. On one side is the sewer ditch, which could not be filled because the winter weather stopped the operations, and on the other side a deep snowdrift. This leaves only the centre of the road, where the car tracks run, and the sleighing is not very good. There has been at least one accident from mixing up runners with the car tracks.

—If the Committee of Twenty-Five does not finish its business tonight the meeting of the Council will be the latest ever held. The times of meetings of the Council since the beginnings have been: 1907, February 13; 1908, February 28; 1909, March 12; 1910, March 9; 1911, March 8; 1912, March 13; 1913, March 3. If the committee finishes tonight the Council might meet March 10 or 13, which would be as late or later than ever.

OUT-OF-TOWN RUNAWAYS.

Middletown and Portsmouth Horses With Speed Mania Stopped.

The speed mania seems to have caught the out-of-town horses. Evidently the roads have so improved that all their strength is not exhausted in coming to town, and they wish to show some speed here.

Nathan Brown's was the first entered. It was just after 9 and the location was Thames street. Mr. Brown was tossed out and the horse proceeded up Thames street at a good rate, of which Middletown had no occasion to be ashamed. The onlookers expected the horse and sleigh would be stopped at least at Washington square, but the runaway went right by without varying his speed. Officer Coggeshall was not on duty; that's all. Nothing in the form of a vehicle was struck on the way up and no milk was lost, until at Marlborough street a can was thrown out.

Later, about 11 o'clock, Portsmouth was in the running. Officer Ring stopped Frank Paquin's horse on Broadway about that time. The horse was attached only to a pair of shafts, and what had happened before that time was not known. It was evident that something had happened out of town.

FOR FREE ENTRY OF JEWELS

Mrs. May Van Alen Thompson Appeals to Board of General Appraisers.

Mrs. May Van Alen Thompson, wife of Griswold Thompson, through her counsel, James F. Curtis, formerly assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has appealed to the board of United States general appraisers to grant free entry to her jewels and other personal effects, which were detained and assessed at full duty at the time of Mrs. Thompson's arrival in Boston from Europe last fall.

The appeal takes the form of a brief filed by Mr. Curtis with the general appraisers. As the wife of an American citizen, the customs officials in Boston declined to accept Mrs. Thompson's declaration that she was a nonresident of this country within the meaning of the tariff law, and compelled her to make out her declaration on the blank provided for American citizens returning from abroad.

In his brief Mr. Curtis says that Mrs. Thompson is not a resident of the United States, not having abandoned her residence in England, and that neither she nor her husband has adopted any place as a permanent home; that she is not a resident of the United States returning from abroad, as she never started upon any journey originating here, and that the articles in question were not acquired abroad by her as a resident of the United States, she having purchased them all before her marriage.

William L. Wemple, assistant attorney general in charge of tariff litigation, files a brief in which he disputes the contentions put forth in behalf of Mrs. Thompson.

BURNED BY EXPLOSION ON SUBMARINE.

A special to the New York Times from Mobile, Ala., says: Machinist J. Steen, on submarine E-2, was severely burned about the face in an explosion of a battery on the boat here Monday. The explosion was due to a formation of gases and was one not uncommon in the submarine fleet, according to the officers. The lower part of the boat was badly damaged. Steen was the only man injured to any extent and his injuries are not serious.

THE BROWN COLLEGIANS AGAIN.

Thursday evening the Father Mathew basket ball team will again meet the Brown Collegians. The last time the Collegians held the local players to three field goals in the second half and the latter won by only one point in the game. Though the price of admission has been raised for men, it remains the same as before for women and boys. This has been necessary, as the teams coming here are demanding larger guarantees.

ONE MORE UNDER THE LAW.

Goode and Burke's License Granted, J. V. Jordans's Application Received.

The License Commission met Monday evening to hear remonstrances, if any, against the granting of a license to Goode & Burke at 104 Thames street After the reading of the minutes Chairman Mahan asked if any one was present to remonstrate, and no one answered.

He asked if any one wished to speak on any matter, and Judge Burke said he represented Mr J V Jordan now in Washington, who for several years has had a license for his hotel here The New Cliffs and has an application for a license at the same place for this year Mr Jordan wrote that he noticed that the number of licenses available is very few and asked him to speak to the Commission about his application Mr Jordan finds that his guests wish to have liquors served with their meals and desires to meet the wishes of his guests and conform to the law and therefore asks for a license

Then the board went into executive session and the spectators went outside

It was rather a legal looking gathering Besides Judge Burke there were City Solicitor Sullivan Judge Mahoney and Messrs William Williams P H Horgan John D Burke and others

While the lawyers were outside there was some talk about the status of the License Commission and the qualifications of Mr John T Allan for the place and again it was stated that a member of a town council cannot be a member of a license commission Mr Allan is a member of the Representative Council and was when elected

After the executive session the reporters and others were told that the application of Goode & Burke for a retail license at 104 Thames street had been granted there being no remonstrance An application for a retail license at The New Cliffs from J V Jordan was received and laid on the table There was also a letter from Carl Berger asking for an application and for information about a license for the coming summer This was received

It was also announced that the commission has just one more license to grant under the law There are applications from C E Gunther and J V Jordan who last year had licenses and Patrick J Sullivan a new applicant, also there is that letter from Mr Berger

City Solicitor Sullivan was present at the request of the commission and another executive session followed, with him and the commissioners present

A CAR OFF THE TRACK

Last Friday night the Providence road had one of the worst accidents it has experienced, yet no one was injured and the car was little damaged The snow was drifting because of the wind and much ice was encountered The car was going down the hill to Bristol Ferry when it left the rails and after bounding along for some distance sheered off and crossed the road Had it gone in the other direction it would have been ditched It required much effort during the night to put the car back on the rails

HARD TIMES CRY RAISED.

Ammunition for 1914 Campaign Used by the Republican Party.

Proposed Monument to General Lee at Capital—Committee Changes in Senate

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON Feb 22—Is the country prosperous or is it suffering from hard times? This discussion comes up periodically in both houses of Congress, and the Republicans cite newspaper accounts of mills closing down and workmen out of employment as an evidence that Democratic legislation has brought hard times The Democrats stuff the record full of quotations from various newspapers to show that the country is in a prosperous condition and that it is really booming

Discussion along these lines will continue as long as Congress is in session because it is a part of the campaign of 1914 If the Republicans do not show that the country is worse off on account of Democratic ascendancy the Democrats will win the coming Congressional elections and if they do win in 1914 they will be well intrenched for the Presidential campaign two years from now

W P Clough for many years a railroad lawyer in Minnesota and now located in New York says that the present depression if real depression exists is because work is finished

We have built all the railroads that we need he said and we have built nearly all the buildings we need We have stopped erecting great buildings in New York because we have space enough to accommodate our interests As to there being over 300 000 unemployed in New York why that is only one third of the number of people that come to New York every year from foreign shores and seek employment We have completed most of the great projects necessary for the present time and we have reached one of those periodical stages of stopping great works until the country catches up They happen about every 10 years and there is nothing strange in the present situation

In a glowing tribute to Lincoln and Grant Congressman Pou of North Carolina made a plea for the erection of a monument by the United States government to General Robert E Lee He wanted it located right across the avenue from the big monument that is now going up to the memory of General Grant And by the way that Grant monument is hidden behind trees and located on such low ground that it will never amount to much as a monument

In the course of his remarks Congressman Pou said We fight here for party advantages You Republicans put us in a hole so to speak one day, and we are trying to find an opportunity to pay you back on the morrow These partisan battles are soon forgotten but when a man does a big broad patriotic thing it is remembered

Congressman Bowdle has made a catechism of the House rules which he has offered to any member who wants it Generally he has refused to ask the government to print his book and in a modest way he says that any member of the House can have it who desires it He told the House that he once thought too much time was spent in haggling over the rules That was his opinion when he first came to Congress and he was particularly antagonistic to Congressman Mann of Illinois who made a specialty of rules but he changed his mind and concluded that the rules were absolutely necessary with all their complications and he bowed his respects to the able parliamentarians in the House who could explain the rules

The death of Senator Bacon of Georgia will cause quite a number of committee changes in the Senate Senator Stone of Missouri will become chairman of the committee on foreign relations and unless the system of seniority is overthrown Senator Ashurst of Arizona is likely to become chairman of the committee on Indian affairs This would be a remarkable advance for Ashurst as he has not been a Senator two years Under the new Democratic regime however the new Senators have not been held back to give the older statesmen all the choice plums

Congressman Slayden of Texas sometimes jokingly refers to himself as the only reactionary left There are many things in connection with present day legislation which Slayden refuses to support but he hasn't anything on his colleague, Martin Dies I shall not vote for these nostrums of socialism declared Dies in the House when speaking of the Alaska railroad bill There are other progressive policies of the Democratic part which neither Dies nor Slayden will support

O'DAY TO BE RETAINED.

Will Continue as Manager of Chicago National League Team

CHICAGO Feb 24—Henry O'Day the veteran umpire whom Charles W Murphy named as manager of the Chicago National League team to succeed Johnny Evers before the club was sold to Charles P Taft of Cincinnati probably will be retained in his new position during the coming season

The following telegram from the club's secretary has been received by O'Day who is in charge of the training camp at Tampa, Florida today Mr Taft instructs me to say that your contract made with Murphy will be carried out and you are to continue as if nothing had happened'

One of the many rumors concerning the management of the Cubs that has been heard since the sale of the club last Saturday was to the effect that a new manager would be appointed to succeed O'Day although the latter would be paid the salary stipulated in the contract he signed with Murphy

ITCHING AND BURNING RASH

Started on Chest. Then on Left Shoulder and Arm. Nearly Driven Crazy. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Rid of Rash.

394 Anawan St Fall River Mass — My trouble started mostly on the front of my body and on my chest It was just brown spots at first and it looked like freckles and then they seemed to run in together and they looked like a rash of some kind It did not trouble me for almost a year and then my upper lip and my face right near my eye broke out and it was itching and burning all the time I used —— on it and it dried it up but that was not done good when the same rash broke out on my left shoulder and on my left arm and it nearly drove me crazy I could not sleep and I could not do anything I scratched and it made it so it itched so on my back and face My clothing irritated it something awful I could not bear anything to touch my back at all for two weeks and it would make it itch and burn so badly I would cry out and have to take my clothes off

I tried —— and that did not do any good I thought I would get out of my head the way I was But after I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment they seemed to ease me I only used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and it took two months to get rid of the eruption Signed) Mrs Bertha F Silvia Apr 1 1913

ONE MORE UNDER THE LAW.

Goode and Burke's License Granted, J. V. Jordans's Application Received.

The License Commission met Monday evening to hear remonstrances, if any, against the granting of a license to Goode & Burke at 104 Thames street. After the reading of the minutes Chairman Mahan asked if any one was present to remonstrate, and no one answered.

He asked if any one wished to speak on any matter, and Judge Burke said he represented Mr. J. V. Jordan, now in Washington, who for several years has had a license for his hotel here, The New Cliffs, and has an application for a license at the same place for this year. Mr. Jordan wrote that he noticed that the number of licenses available is very few and asked him to speak to the Commission about his application. Mr. Jordan finds that his guests wish to have liquors served with their meals, and desires to meet the wishes of his guests and conform to the law, and therefore asks for a license.

Then the board went into executive session and the spectators went outside.

It was rather a legal-looking gathering. Besides Judge Burke there were City Solicitor Sullivan, Judge Mahoney and Messrs. William Williams, P. H. Horgan, John D. Burke and others.

While the lawyers were outside there was some talk about the status of the License Commission and the qualifications of Mr. John T. Allan for the place, and again it was stated that a member of a town council cannot be a member of a license commission. Mr. Allan is a member of the Representative Council, and was when elected.

After the executive session the reporters and others were told that the application of Goode & Burke for a retail license at 104 Thames street had been granted, there being no remonstrance. An application for a retail license at The New Cliffs from J. V. Jordan was received and laid on the table. There was also a letter from Carl Berger, asking for an application and for information about a license for the coming summer. This was received.

It was also announced that the commission has just one more license to grant under the law. There are applications from C. E. Gunther and J. V. Jordan, who last year had licenses, and Patrick J. Sullivan, a new applicant; also, there is that letter from Mr. Berger.

City Solicitor Sullivan was present at the request of the commission and another executive session followed, with him and the commissioners present.

A CAR OFF THE TRACK.

Last Friday night the Providence road had one of the worst accidents it has experienced, yet no one was injured and the car was little damaged. The snow was drifting because of the wind, and much ice was encountered. The car was going down the hill to Bristol Ferry when it left the rails, and after bounding along for some distance sheered off and crossed the road. Had it gone in the other direction it would have been ditched. It required much effort during the night to put the car back on the rails.

HARD TIMES CRY RAISED.

Ammunition for 1914 Campaign Used by the Republican Party.

Proposed Monument to General Lee at Capital—Committee Changes in Senate.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Is the country prosperous or is it suffering from hard times? This discussion comes up periodically in both houses of Congress, and the Republicans cite newspaper accounts of mills closing down and workmen out of employment as an evidence that Democratic legislation has brought hard times. The Democrats stuff the record full of quotations from various newspapers to show that the country is in a prosperous condition, and that it is really booming.

Discussion along these lines will continue as long as Congress is in session because it is a part of the campaign of 1914. If the Republicans do not show that the country is worse off on account of Democratic ascendency the Democrats will win the coming Congressional elections, and if they do win in 1914 they will be well intrenched for the Presidential campaign two years from now.

W. P. Clough, for many years a railroad lawyer in Minnesota and now located in New York, says that the present depression, if real depression exists, is because work is denied.

"We have built all the railroads that we need," he said, "and we have built nearly all the buildings we need. We have stopped erecting great buildings in New York because we have space enough to accommodate our interests. As to there being over 300,000 unemployed in New York, why, that is only one third of the number of people that come to New York every year from foreign shores and seek employment. We have completed most of the great projects necessary for the present time, and we have reached one of those periodical stages of stopping great works until the country catches up. They happen about every 10 years, and there is nothing strange in the present situation."

In a glowing tribute to Lincoln and Grant Congressman Pou of North Carolina made a plea for the erection of a monument by the United States government to General Robert E. Lee. He wanted it located right across the avenue from the big monument that is now going up to the memory of General Grant. And, by the way, that Grant monument is hidden behind trees and located on such low ground that it will never amount to much as a monument.

In the course of his remarks Congressman Pou said: "We fight here for party advantages. You Republicans put us in a hole, so to speak, one day, and we are trying to find an opportunity to pay you back on the morrow. Those partisan battles are soon forgotten, but when a man does a big, broad, patriotic thing it is remembered."

Congressman Bowdle has made a catechism of the House rules which he has offered to any member who wants it. Generally he has refused to ask the government to print his book, and in a modest way he says that any member of the House can have it who desires it. He told the House that he once thought too much time was spent in haggling over the rules. That was his opinion when he first came to Congress and he was particularly antagonistic to Congressman Mann of Illinois who made a specialty of rules, but he changed his mind and concluded that the rules were absolutely necessary, with all their complications, and he bowed his respects to the able parliamentarians in the House who could explain the rules.

The death of Senator Bacon of Georgia will cause quite a number of committee changes in the Senate. Senator Stone of Missouri will become chairman of the committee on foreign relations and unless the system of seniority is overthrown Senator Ashurst of Arizona is likely to become chairman of the committee on Indian affairs. This would be a remarkable advance for Ashurst, as he has not been a Senator two years. Under the new Democratic regime, however, the new Senators have not been held back to give the older statesmen all the choice plums.

Congressman Slayden of Texas some times jokingly refers to himself as the "only reactionary left." There are many things in connection with present day legislation which Slayden refuses to support but he hasn't anything on his colleague, Martin Dies. "I shall not vote for these nostrums of socialism," declared Dies in the House when speaking of the Alaska railroad bill. There are other progressive policies of the Democratic party which neither Dies nor Slayden will support.

Three Syndicates of Chicago Men After Chicago National Club.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—At least three syndicates of Chicago men are endeavoring to purchase the controlling interest in the Chicago National club from Charles P. Taft. John P. Harding, a hotel owner, heads the third syndicate whose representative, W. J. Mayer, expects to see Mr. Taft today. Representatives of the syndicate, headed by Louis J. Behan, who yesterday made Mr Taft an offer of $700,000 for his interest in the Cubs, will leave for Cincinnati tonight to press their bid. William Hale Thompson, James A. Pugh and Charles A. McCulloch also have asked the new owner of the Cubs to submit a price for his holdings.

O'DAY TO BE RETAINED.

Will Continue as Manager of Chicago National League Team.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Henry O'Day, the veteran umpire, whom Charles W. Murphy named as manager of the Chicago National League team to succeed Johnny Evers, before the club was sold to Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, probably will be retained in his new position during the coming season.

The following telegram from the club's secretary has been received by O'Day, who is in charge of the Cubs training camp at Tamon, Florida, according to information received here today: "Mr. Taft instructs me to say that your contract made with Murphy will be carried out and you are to continue as if nothing had happened."

One of the many rumors concerning the management of the Cubs that has been heard since the sale of the club last Saturday was to the effect that a new manager would be appointed to succeed O'Day, although the latter would be paid the salary stipulated in the contract he signed with Murphy.

SAVE THE HAIR

Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It

No woman should have poor, thin, scraggy hair, and no man need become bald. Poor hair and final baldness are due to the dandruff germ.

Newbro's Herpicide will destroy this little germ and stop the hair from falling. Further evidence of this is found in a letter from Mrs. F. Neilsen, of Tomah, Wis. She says, "I fought the worst kind of dandruff for nine years. I have been using Herpicide now one week, and my scalp is healthy, the dandruff has gone and the itching has stopped. It is the best remedy for scalp diseases I ever saw, and I have seen many."

Don't subject yourself to disappointment and expense by accepting something claimed to be "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. These off brands may possibly be good, but why take chances? The genuine and original dandruff germ destroyer can always be obtained. If your own druggist has nothing but "just as good" articles, go [illegible] who will furnish you with Newbro's Herpicide and guarantees one dollar size bottles. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

So much favorable comment was received on the "amusement register" suggested by Miss Dowling, that it was decided Barney's Music Store was a satisfactory place in which to establish it.

The book has been prepared and is now open to the public, and we earnestly invite all those in charge of entertainments to come and enter the date on this register. By so doing there will be no necessity of conflicting dates, and a better attendance to all events is assured. There is no charge in any way connected with this.

ITCHING AND BURNING RASH

Started on Chest. Then on Left Shoulder and Arm. Nearly Driven Crazy. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Rid of Rash.

394 Anawan St., Fall River, Mass.—"My trouble started mostly on the front of my body and on my chest. It was just brown spots at first and it looked like freckles, and then they seemed to run in together and they looked like a rash of some kind. It did not trouble me for almost a year and then my upper lip and my face right near my eye broke out and it was itching and burning all the time. I used [illegible] on it and it dried it up, but that was not doing good when the same rash broke out on my left shoulder and on my left arm and it nearly drove me crazy. I could not sleep and I could not do anything. I scratched and it made it go into sores on my back and face. My clothing irritated it something awful. I could not bear anything to touch my back at all for two weeks and it would make it itch and burn so badly I would cry out and have to take my clothes off.

"I tried ——— and that did not do any good. I thought I would go out of my head the way I was. But after I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment they seemed to ease me. I only used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and it took two months to get rid of the eruption." (Signed) Mrs. Katie F. Silvia, Apr. 12, 1913.

Cuticura Soap, 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

TAIL-END OF BLIZZARD.

About An Inch of Snow Falls in New York During the Night.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—An extra covering of an inch of snow last night was added to the heavy blanket left by last week's storms. The snow ceased falling early today, with the thermometer at 10 degrees above zero. The snow came as forecasted yesterday as the tail-end of the blizzard in the West. It was little more than a bluster, but served as a warning to the surface car lines and the city street cleaning department. Several thousand men were engaged all night in sweeping snow from car tracks and street crossings. The drop in the temperature drove hundreds of homeless men to the municipal lodging houses.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE.

Cape Cod and Southeastern Islands Visited by Northeaster With Snow.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The strength of the high pressure over New England, which drove yesterday's storm off the coast far to the southward, brought with it today another cold wave which was especially severe along the northern border, with a minimum reading of 34 below zero at Northfield, Vt. There was such a difference in pressure in New England that on Cape Cod and the southeastern islands a 40-mile northeast snowstorm raged with much fury for several hours after sunrise.

BELOW ZERO TEMPERATURES.

Cincinnati and Ohio Experience Coldest Weather of the Winter.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—Cincinnati and southern Ohio experienced the coldest weather of the winter today, the temperature being below zero at many places. The snowstorm left a deposit of 10 inches and hampered street car and railroad service Traffic conditions were somewhat improved today.

INDIANAPOLIS 1 BELOW.

Practically All the Interurban Tracks Still Snow-Bound.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 24.—With the thermometer at 1 degree below zero, the coldest morning of the season, a few of the city lines and practically all the interurban tracks were still snow-bound. A few trains arrived this morning after being stuck in snow drifts over the state since Monday morning.

VESSEL ARRIVES AT GRAVES END.

Labor Leaders Deported from South Africa Will Not Leave the Umgeni.

GRAVES END, England, Feb. 24.—Nine of the labor leaders deported from South Africa on board the Umgeni, January 27, after the general strike had been broken by the government, declared their intention of refusing to leave the vessel when she arrived here today. They said they would remain on board until the steamer returned to South Africa.

Mr. Bain, general secretary of the Trades Federation of South Africa, acting as spokesman for his fellow exiles, said: "We were pressed onto the vessel against our consent. We do not intend to leave it until we land again in South Africa."

Arthur Henderson, a labor member of Parliament, and other British labor leaders went down the Thames in a tug to meet the deported strike leaders, but the Captain of the Umgeni refused to allow them on board. A conference between the South Africans and their English comrades was therefore impossible, and both parties contented themselves for the moment with singing "The Red Flag."

Secretary Bain handed over the side of the ship to Henderson a long statement recounting the events which had led up to the strike leaders deportation. It declared that hundreds of people had been arrested indiscriminately during the strike, for no crimes whatever. The leaders of the movement, it asserted, surrendered only in order to avoid bloodshed when a military officer had threatened to attack the trades hall in Johannesburg.

The refusal of the deported men to leave the Umgeni on her arrival had not been anticipated here. The labor members of Parliament had arranged a great welcome for them, including a complimentary dinner, in the dining rooms of the House of Commons, and demonstrations at the Opera House and in Hyde Park.

The Umgeni proceeded up the Thames to one of the London docks before any further steps were taken in connection with the landing of the men.

After a long parley with the labor leaders, Arthur Henderson and Charles Bowerman, the exiles from South Africa revoked their decision and landed at Gravesend.

MAJOR GENERAL CHAMBERLAIN.

Ex-Governor of Maine and Former Head of Bowdoin Dead.

PORTLAND, Maine, Feb. 24.—Major General Joshua L. Chamberlain, one of the best known officers of the Civil war, an ex-governor of Maine and former president of Bowdoin College, died today in this city. General Chamberlain was brevetted brigadier general at Little Round Top for heroism on the field of battle, and at the close of the war was brevetted major general.

General Chamberlain had been in poor health for a number of yearss, suffering from the effects of injuries received in battle. He had several attacks, which it was feared would result in his death, but he rallied each time and was able to continue until the last at his duties in the Portland custom house as surveyor of port, to which position he was appointed in 1900. He took cold recently and this aggravated his condition. He died shortly after 9:30 a. m. He was 85 years old, having been born at Brewer September 8, 1829. Two children survive him, Mrs. Horace Allen of Boston and Harold W. Chamberlain of Brunswick.

General Chamberlain graduated from Bowdoin College in 1852 and from Bangor Theological Seminary three yearss later. He was instructor and professor at Bowdoin for 10 years and president of the college from 1871 until 1883. He had been one of its trustees since 1867. He went to the front with the Twentieth Maine regiment in 1862 as lieutenant colonel and the next year was promoted to colonel. The official recognition of his bravery was given in 1864 and 1865. Returning to his home state, General Chamberlain was elected governor in 1867, and served until 1870. He was honored with the degree of doctor of literature by the University of Pennsylvania in 1866 and by Bowdoin College three years later.

ON SERIOUS CHARGES.

Major Kochler of Coast Artillery Corps Brought to Trial.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Feb. 24.—Major Benjamin Kochler of the United States coast artillery corps was brought to trial today before a board of army officers at Fort Terry, Plum Island, on charges which it is understood are of a very serious character. While the exact nature of the allegations is closely withheld, it is understood that the general charge is that of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman, but with specifications which involve questions of morality. When the charges were first brought Major Koehler presented his resignation, but Secretary of War Garrison declined to accept it under the conditions. Colonel Henry Kirby of the Third United States infantry is the president of the court.

REGARDING BENTON KILLING.

Comment by the Press on Sir Edward Grey's Statement in the Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Sharp comment is made by the Manchester Guardian today on Sir Edward Grey's statement in the House of Commons yesterday in regard to the killing of William S. Benton at Juarez by General Villa. The newspaper asks:

"Is it not mere playing with words to say that in such a case the United States has no responsibility? If that were so the Monroe Doctrine would be a mere instrument of international anarchy, whereas the whole tendency of President Wilson's policy has been to make it a force for order and good government. If we are not responsible then the United States is. We certainly do not wish to drive the United States government into intervention, but it cannot deny to other powers the right of defending their interests and at the same time refuse to defend them itself."

MANY COLORED WIGS WORN.

Southern Society of New York Gives Dixie Dinner and Ball.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—At the Dixie dinner and colonial ball of the Southern Society of New York last night the colored wig appeared for the first time at a public society function in this city. Almost all the colors known to the eyes framed the faces of Southern beauties on the floor of the ball room when the dancing began. The fact that the latest dresses are very brightly colored gives emphasis to the new style in hair. At present the most popular colors are blue, rose, purple, mauve and green.

WIRELESS WAVES CROSSED.

The Wildenfields, From Which S. O. S. Call Was Reported, Safe.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A telegram from Bremen to Lloyds today explains that no accident has happened to German steamer Wildenfels, from which vessel an S. O. S. call was reported to have been received at The Lizard yesterday. The Wildenfels, the despatch adds, picked up some of the crew of Danish steamer Ekliptika, which sank in the Bay of Biscay during a storm. The confusion arose on account of the crossing of the wireless waves during transmission. The Ekliptika was a steamer of 1,348 tons net and belonged to the Urania Steamship Company of Copenhagen.

MESSAGE FROM THE WILDENFELS.

German Steamer Rescues Eleven from the Ekliptika.

BREMEN, Germany, Feb. 24.—A fragmentary wireless message received here from German steamer Wildenfels reports that she rescued a passenger, the second engineer, and eight men and a boy from Danish steamer Ekliptika when she sank in the Bay of Biscay yesterday. The message states specifically that the captain of the Ekliptika perished, but does not mention the rest of her complement who, it is assumed, went down with the ship.

RESULT OF MANN'S ACTION.

Mayor Curley of Boston Resigns from Congress.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Mayor James M Curley announced today his resignation from Congress. In his statement he said he took the step as a result of the action of Minority Leader James R. Mann, who introduced a resolution in Congress proposing that Mr. Curley's seat be declared vacant. The resignation is to be effective from February 24.

The mayor made the announcement following a conference with Governor Walsh. "This step," he said, "necessitates the issuance of a precept for the holding, at the earliest possible date, of a special election in the twelfth Congressional district to fill the vacancy occasioned by my resignation. I regret that action of this character is apparently necessary, because of the expense to the municipality involved, but I believe in justice to myself that his course is imperative, in consequence of the apparent desire of some person or persons to create political capital at the expense of myself or the party represented in Congress by me."

Mr. Mann's resolution set forth that "The offices of mayor and representative in Congress are incompatible and it is impossible for one man to perform the duties of both."

CONFER WITH WANAMAKER.

Porte of England and Towers of This Country Will Pilot Flying Boat.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Lieutenant John Cyril Porte of England and Lieutenant John H. Towers, U. S. N., mentioned as the aviators who will pilot the Rodman Wanamaker flying boat in the contemplated trans-Atlantic flight, came to town today for a conference with Mr. Wanamaker. Glenn H. Curtiss, who is building the flying boat, was also here for the conference. Lieutenant Porte came in on a steamer which docked early today. Following the conference it was planned to take the aviators to the Curtiss factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., to inspect the work already done on the new flier.

In reply to a question as to what progress has been made, Mr. Curtiss replied: "Up to the present time most of the work has had to do with the plans and drawings of the machine. Every detail has been subject of much study and consideration. I should say the plans for the plane itself are 50 per cent completed. When we have satisfied ourselves that everything is right it will be a matter of less than four weeks to do the actual construction work. The motor is practically finished.

REFERRED TO IN OLD LETTER.

Dr. Bell May Prove to be First to Have Suggested Radium for Cancer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A letter written over a decade ago by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, and recently discovered, is causing his many friends here to wonder whether he was not the first man to suggest the imbedding of radium in bodily tissues as a curative agent for deep-seated cancers. The letter, dated July 21, 1903, and addressed to Dr. Z. T. Sowers of Washington, was made public by the National Geographic Society today.

Speaking of the satisfactory results radium was found to have on external cancers and at the same time of the unsatisfactory effect it had on deep-seated cancers, Dr. Bell in his letter said:

"It has occurred to me that one reason for the unsatisfactory nature of these latter experiments arises from the fact that the rays have been applied externally, thus having to pass through healthy tissues of various depths in order to reach the cancerous matter. The Crooks tube, by which the Roentgen rays are emitted, is of course too bulky to be admitted into the middle of the mass cancer, but there is no reason why a tiny fragment of radium sealed up in a fine glass tube could not be inserted into the very heart of the cancer, thus acting directly upon the diseased material. Would it not be worth while making experiments along this line?"

Dr. Sowers replied that he regarded the suggestion as very valuable and added: "If such experiments should be made I have no doubt they would prove successful in many cases where we now have failures."

The letter was recently called to Dr. Bell's attention, but he declined to claim that his was the first suggestion. He added, however, that should an investigation prove this to be true nothing would please him more.

GROWTH OVER 1912.

Increase in Number of Dependent Families in New York in 1913.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—An increase of four per cent in the number of dependent families in New York city over the previous year is shown in the 1913 report of the Charity Organization Society.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24, Wall Street—The market opened with, Amalgamated Copper 75¼, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 97½, Baltimore & Ohio 92⅛, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 92¾, Canadian Pacific 213⅝, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 102⅛, Colorado Fuel 32⅜, General Electric 149¾, Great Northern Preferred 128¾, Missouri Pacific 25⅝, New York Central 89⅞, Northern Pacific 115⅜, Pennsylvania 111¾, Reading 167⅛, Rock Island Preferred 9⅛, Southern Railway 26¾, Union Pacific 151⅜, United States Steel 65⅛, United States Steel preferred 110, Western Union 64½.

10:45—After an unusually quiet opening today trading came almost to a stop before the end of the first half hour. Suspension of business over the double holiday resulted in no accumulation of orders such as is usually on hand after the week-end recess, and the transactions were on too small a scale to affect materially the level of prices. Most of the leaders were a shade lower, but the movement was unusually narrow, except in the cases of a few of the less active stocks. Rock Island issues continue their decline. The Common, at 8⅛ and the Preferred, at 8⅞, reached new low levels. General Motors and Central Leather declined a point. J. I. Case preferred rose 2½.

Noon—Lower prices for some American stocks in London, selling here on a small scale for foreign account, and experimental sales by bear operators depressed prices slightly for a time today, but there was a sufficient demand at concessions to prevent a material decline. The pacific attitude of the British government regarding the complications in Mexico robbed the bears of their one weapon and they were unable to bring out long stocks by pressure against the more vulnerable shares. Traders alternately bought and sold stocks and the general range was confined in small fractions. The possibility of important decisions by the Supreme Court, on re-convening today, restricted speculations during the morning. Bonds were irregular. Call money, steady, at 1¾ per cent Mercantile paper, 3¾ @ 4. Exchanges, $236,695,669; balances, $16,902,128.

TAIL-END OF BLIZZARD.

About An Inch of Snow Falls in New York During the Night.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—An extra covering of an inch of snow last night was added to the heavy blanket left by last week's storms. The snow ceased falling early today, with the thermometer at 10 degrees above zero. The snow came as forecasted yesterday as the tail-end of the blizzard in the West. It was little more than a bluster, but served as a warning to the surface car lines and the city street cleaning department. Several thousand men were engaged all night in sweeping snow from car tracks and street crossings. The drop in the temperature drove hundreds of homeless men to the municipal lodging houses.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE.

Cape Cod and Southeastern Islands Visited by Northeaster With Snow.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The strength of the high pressure over New England, which drove yesterday's storm off the coast far to the southward, brought with it today another cold wave which was especially severe along the northern border, with a minimum reading of 34 below zero at Northfield, Vt. There was such a difference in pressure in New England that on Cape Cod and the southeastern islands a 40-mile northeast snowstorm raged with much fury for several hours after sunrise.

BELOW ZERO TEMPERATURES.

Cincinnati and Ohio Experience Coldest Weather of the Winter.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—Cincinnati and southern Ohio experienced the coldest weather of the winter today, the temperature being below zero at many places. The snowstorm left a deposit of 12 inches and hampered street car and railroad service. Traffic conditions were somewhat improved today.

INDIANAPOLIS 1 BELOW.

Practically All the Interurban Tracks Still Snow-Bound.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 24.—With the thermometer at 1 degree below zero, the coldest morning of the season, a few of the city lines and practically all the interurban tracks were still snow-bound. A few trains arrived this morning after being stuck in snow drifts over the state since Monday morning.

VESSEL ARRIVES AT GRAVES END.

Labor Leaders Deported from South Africa Will Not Leave the Umgeni.

GRAVES END, England, Feb. 24.—Nine of the labor leaders deported from South Africa on board the Umgeni, January 27, after the general strike had been broken by the government, declared their intention of refusing to leave the vessel when she arrived here today. They said they would remain on board until the steamer returned to South Africa.

Mr. Bain, general secretary of the Trades Federation of South Africa, acting as spokesman for his fellow exiles, said: "We were pressed onto the vessel against our consent. We do not intend to leave it until we land again in South Africa."

Arthur Henderson, a labor member of Parliament, and other British labor leaders went down the Thames in a tug to meet the deported strike leaders, but the Captain of the Umgeni refused to allow them on board. A conference between the South Africans and their English comrades was therefore impossible, and both parties contented themselves for the moment with singing "The Red Flag."

Secretary Bain handed over the side of the ship to Henderson a long statement recounting the events which had led up to the strike leaders deportation. It declared that hundreds of people had been arrested indiscriminately during the strike, for no crimes whatever. The leaders of the movement, it asserted, surrendered only in order to avoid bloodshed when a military officer had threatened to attack the trades hall in Johannesburg.

The refusal of the deported men to leave the Umgeni on her arrival had not been anticipated here. The labor members of Parliament had arranged a great welcome for them, including a complimentary dinner, in the dining rooms of the House of Commons, and demonstrations at the Opera House and in Hyde Park.

The Umgeni proceeded up the Thames to one of the London docks before any further steps were taken in connection with the landing of the men.

After a long parley with the labor leaders, Arthur Henderson and Charles Bowerman, the exiles from South Africa revoked their decision and landed at Gravesend.

MAJOR GENERAL CHAMBERLAIN.

Ex-Governor of Maine and Former Head of Bowdoin Dead.

PORTLAND, Maine, Feb. 24.—Major General Joshua L. Chamberlain, one of the best known officers of the Civil war, an ex-governor of Maine and former president of Bowdoin College, died today in this city. General Chamberlain was brevetted brigadier general at Little Round Top for heroism on the field of battle, and at the close of the war was brevetted major general.

General Chamberlain had been in poor health for a number of years, suffering from the effects of injuries received in battle. He had several attacks, which it was feared would result in his death, but he rallied each time and was able to continue until the last at his duties in the Portland custom house as surveyor of port, to which position he was appointed in 1900. He took cold recently and this aggravated his condition. He died shortly after 9:30 a. m. He was 85 years old, having been born at Brewer September 8, 1828. Two children survive him, Mrs. Horace Allen of Boston and Harold W. Chamberlain of Brunswick.

General Chamberlain graduated from Bowdoin College in 1852 and from Bangor Theological Seminary three yearss later. He was instructor and professor at Bowdoin for 10 years and president of the college from 1871 until 1883. He had been one of its trustees since 1867. He went to the front with the Twentieth Maine regiment in 1862 as lieutenant colonel and the next year was promoted to colonel. The official recognition of his bravery was given in 1864 and 1865. Returning to his home state, General Chamberlain was elected governor in 1867, and served until 1870. He was honored with the degree of doctor of literature by the University of Pennsylvania in 1866 and by Bowdoin College three years later.

ON SERIOUS CHARGES.

Major Koehler of Coast Artillery Corps Brought to Trial.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Feb. 24.—Major Benjamin Koehler of the United States coast artillery corps was brought to trial today before a board of army officers at Fort Terry, Plum Island, on charges which it is understood are of a very serious character. While the exact nature of the allegations is closely withheld, it is understood that the general charge is that of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman, but with specifications which involve questions of morality. When the charges were first brought Major Koehler presented his resignation, but Secretary of War Garrison declined to accept it under the conditions. Colonel Henry Kirby of the Third United States infantry is the president of the court.

REGARDING BENTON KILLING.

Comment by the Press on Sir Edward Grey's Statement in the Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Sharp comment is made by the Manchester Guardian today on Sir Edward Grey's statement in the House of Commons yesterday in regard to the killing of William S. Benton at Juaroz by General Villa. The newspaper asks:

"Is it not mere playing with words to say that in such a case the United States has no responsibility? If that were so the Monroe Doctrine would be a mere instrument of international anarchy, whereas the whole tendency of President Wilson's policy has been to make it a force for order and good government. If we are not responsible then the United States is. We certainly do not wish to drive the United States government into intervention, but it cannot deny to other powers the right of defending their interests and at the same time refuse to defend them itself."

MANY COLORED WIGS WORN.

Southern Society of New York Gives Dixie Dinner and Ball.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—At the Dixie dinner and colonial ball of the Southern Society of New York last night the colored wig appeared for the first time at a public society function in this city. Almost all the colors known to the eyes framed the faces of Southern beauties on the floor of the ball room when the dancing began. The fact that the latest dresses are very brightly colored gives emphasis to the new style in hair. At present the most popular colors are blue, rose, purple, mauve and green.

WIRELESS WAVES CROSSED.

The Wildenfields, From Which S. O. S. Call Was Reported, Safe.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A telegram from Bremen to Lloyds today explains that no accident has happened to German steamer Wildenfels, from which vessel an S. O. S. call was reported to have been received at The Lizard yesterday. The Wildenfels, the despatch adds, picked up some of the crew of Danish steamer Ekliptika, which sank in the Bay of Biscay during a storm. The confusion arose on account of the crossing of the wireless waves during transmission. The Ekliptika was a steamer of 1,343 tons net and belonged to the Oranta Steamship Company of Copenhagen.

MESSAGE FROM THE WILDENFELS.

German Steamer Rescues Eleven from the Ekliptika.

BREMEN, Germany, Feb. 24.—A fragmentary wireless message received here from German steamer Wildenfels reports that she rescued a passenger, the second engineer, and eight men and a boy from Danish steamer Ekliptika when she sank in the Bay of Biscay yesterday. The message states specifically that the captain of the Ekliptika perished, but does not mention the rest of her complement who, it is assumed, went down with the ship.

RESULT OF MANN'S ACTION.

Mayor Curley of Boston Resigns from Congress.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Mayor James M. Curley announced today his resignation from Congress. In his statement he said he took the step as a result of the action of Minority Leader James R. Mann, who introduced a resolution in Congress proposing that Mr. Curley's seat be declared vacant. The resignation is to be effective from February 4.

The mayor made the announcement following a conference with Governor Walsh. "This step," he said, "necessitates the issuance of a precept for the holding, at the earliest possible date, of a special election in the Fourth Congressional district to fill the vacancy occasioned by my resignation. I regret that action of this character is apparently necessary, because of the expense to the municipality involved, but I believe in justice to myself that his course is imperative, in consequence of the apparent desire of some person or persons to create political capital at the expense of myself or the party represented in Congress by me."

Mr. Mann's resolution set forth that "The offices of mayor and representative in Congress are incompatible and it is impossible for one man to perform the duties of both."

CONFER WITH WANAMAKER.

Porte of England and Towers of This Country Will Pilot Flying Boat.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Lieutenant John Cyril Porte of England and Lieutenant John H. Towers, U. S. N., mentioned as the aviators who will pilot the Rodman Wanamaker flying boat in the contemplated trans-Atlantic flight, came to town today for a conference with Mr. Wanamaker. Glenn H. Curtiss, who is building the flying boat, was also here for the conference. Lieutenant Porte came in on a steamer which docked early today. Following the conference it was planned to take the aviators to the Curtiss factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., to inspect the work already done on the new flier.

In reply to a question as to what progress has been made, Mr. Curtiss replied: "Up to the present time most of the work has had to do with the plans and drawings of the machine. Every detail has been subject of much study and consideration. I should say the plans for the plane itself are 50 per cent completed. When we have satisfied ourselves that everything is right it will be a matter of less than four weeks to do the actual construction work. The motor is practically finished.

REFERRED TO IN OLD LETTER.

Dr. Bell May Prove to be First to Have Suggested Radium for Cancer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A letter written over a decade ago by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, and recently discovered, is causing his many friends here to wonder whether he was not the first man to suggest the imbedding of radium in bodily tissues as a curative agent for deep-seated cancers. The letter, dated July 21, 1903, and addressed to Dr. Z. T. Sowers of Washington, was made public by the National Geographic Society today.

Speaking of the satisfactory results radium was found to have on external cancers and at the same time of the unsatisfactory effect it had on deep-seated cancers, Dr. Bell in his letter said:

"It has occurred to me that one reason for the unsatisfactory nature of these latter experiments arises from the fact that the rays have been applied externally, thus having to pass through healthy tissues of various depths in order to reach the cancerous matter. The Crooks tube by which the Roentgen rays are emitted, is of course too bulky to be admitted into the middle of the mass cancer, but there is no reason why a tiny fragment of radium sealed up in a fine glass tube should not be inserted into the very heart of the cancer, thus acting directly upon the diseased material. Would it not be worth while making experiments along this line?"

Dr. Sowers replied that he regarded the suggestion as very valuable and added: "If such experiments should be made I have no doubt they would prove successful in many cases where we now have failures."

The letter was recently called to Dr. Bell's attention but he declined to claim that his was the first suggestion. He added, however, that should an investigation prove this to be true nothing would please him more.

GROWTH OVER 1912.

Increase in Number of Dependent Families in New York in 1913.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—An increase of four per cent in the number of dependent families in New York city over the previous year is shown in the 1913 report of the Charity Organization Society.

10:45—After an unusually quiet opening today trading came almost to a stop before the end of the first half hour. Suspension of business over the double holiday resulted in no accumulation of orders such as is usually on hand after the week-end recess, and the transactions were on top small a scale to affect materially the level of prices. Most of the leaders were a shade lower, but the movement was unusually narrow, except in the cases of a few of the less active stocks. Rock Island issues continue their decline. The Common, at 3¼, and the Preferred, at 8⅞, reached new low levels. General Motors and Central Leather declined a point. J. I. Case preferred rose 2½.

Noon—Lower prices for some American stocks in London, selling here on a small scale for foreign account, and experimental sales by bear operators depressed prices slightly for a time today, but there was a sufficient demand at concessions to prevent a material decline. The pacific attitude of the British government regarding the complications in Mexico robbed the bears of their one weapon and they were unable to bring out long stocks by pressure against the more vulnerable shares. Traders alternately bought and sold stocks and the general range was confined to small fractions. The possibility of important decisions by the Supreme Court, on re-convening today, restricted speculations during the morning. Bonds were irregular. Call money, steady, at 1¾ per cent. Mercantile paper, 3¾ @ 4. Exchanges, $236,695,069; balances, $16,902,128.

A PAIR OF SPECTACLES.

Roles Well Taken in Play for Benefit of Trinity Parish House Fund

Before an excellent audience at Trinity guild hall Monday evening A Pair of Spectacles a comedy in three acts by Sydney Grundy was capitally presented for the benefit of the parish house fund under the personal direction of Mr A O'D Taylor The play calls for but one setting the breakfast room at Mr Goldfinch's the first act taking place one morning the second the next morning and the third the next evening

The play itself is a good one Benjamin Goldfinch is a wholesouled generous, charitable man, trustful of everybody while his brother Uncle Gregory is his exact antithesis The two visit a man who has asked help Uncle Gregory being sure the man is an imposter This proves to be the case Benjamin Goldfinch is disappointed and, breaking his spectacles borrows Uncle Gregory's From that time Benjamin Goldfinch also becomes suspicious of everybody, until every one with whom he comes in contact does him some favor and he realizes that it s better to trust and sometimes be deceived than never to trust and thereby misjudge

Too much can hardly be said in praise of Mr Lyold E Maver who played in "Eager Heart" in Trinity guild hall last Christmas and took the part of Benjamin He was letter perfect in a long and difficult role his make up as an old man was excellent and his voice and acting left nothing to be desired It is seldom that an amateur sustains a part so well Mr Henry C Wilkinson as Uncle Gregory was also remarkably good as a crabbed old man, who, however shows the good side of his character at the end

Mr Lewis B Plummer as Benjamin Goldfinch's son Mr William Helme as Dick his nephew and Mr Julian N Johnson as Lorimer, his friend are well cast while Mr A. O'D Taylor as Bartholomew his shoemaker, Mr Herman A Lawson as Joyce his brother and Mr Powel Kazanjian as another shoemaker were excellent Mrs Ralph R Hazard as Mrs Goldfinch the young wife of Benjamin Goldfinch had a congenial role Miss Gustava W Stenholm was attractive as Lucy Lorimer and Miss Bertha Johnson was good in the minor part of Charlotte a parlor maid

DETAILS OF SONG FORM.

Mr Geer Gives Illustrations on the Piano at Second Lecture

The second in the series of lectures by Mr Geer was given Monday evening the many other attractions of the holiday drawing from the attendance The topic was the Song Form and many interesting details were given, with illustrations on the piano

Going down to fundamental things the speaker said repetition is the basic principle of every form of art be it architecture painting poetry or music Alliteration is repetition Melodies are made by repeating little motives A sequence is a repetition in a series a harmonic sequence is a succession of repeated chords sometimes useful in making a climax Imitation is a repetition in different voices Schubert is a composer who repeats instead of developing his themes

Motives are varied by alteration of intervals or of rhythm as from eighth notes to sixteenths, or by inversion or retrogression or dismemberment or embellishment or enlargement After a contrast comes re instatement of a melody There are 12 different forms of scales Motives alternate sometimes in making up a melody

The speaker analyzed the principal theme of the fifth symphony which Beethoven called Fate knocking at the door Interval expansion and the half cadence with its pause which is not final were shown Beethoven was a slow careful laborious composer although his music was never labored The speaker played the original draft of this fifth symphony theme beautiful but somewhat monotonous and showed how the magic touch of the master had overlaid and transformed it into one of the most graceful and expressive of melodies

The melody of the great G minor fugue of Bach with its two alternating motives was played Thesis antithesis and complementary phrases were mentioned and the period or basis of all construction of music was reached

In the two part song form the melody leaves arrives by something in contrast then returns to the start Exactly so is the negro melody Swing low sweet Chariot A Scotch melody another negro melody and that in the ninth symphony were given as illustrations

In three part song form there is a [illegible] like the first part of the [illegible] form then some contrast [illegible] material then a return of the [illegible] A negro folk song and the last movement of Beethoven's sonata Op [illegible] in which the third part [illegible] two measures short were played [illegible] in varying the number of measures—to those able to [illegible] it and yet maintain the proper balance

The next lecture (there being a wedding in the speaker's church requiring his presence next Monday) will be next Wednesday evening and as some elaborate music is to be introduced a pianola will be used There will be illustrations from The Harmonious Blacksmith the XIV Sonata in A by Mozart the A flat sonata Op [illegible] of Beethoven and the Bach orchestral suite in C

A KALEIDOSCOPE OF BEAUTY.

Brilliant Scene at Annual Ball of the Newport Artillery Company

Many Dances Some Old-Fashioned, Enjoyed at Washington's Birthday Entertainments

Masonic hall was a kaleidoscope of beauty Monday night the occasion being the annual ball of the Newport Artillery company The members were in their Colonial uniforms and the costumes of the women and the decorations made the scene brilliant The attendance was large and the enjoyment like the overflowing cup, even though Sergeant Knowe did make an announcement which a little surprised some He said the guests would be expected to follow the program, and when a two-step was played not dance a one-step or if a waltz was played that should be danced and not a hesitation waltz Applause followed the announcement, though some still seemed disposed to go their own way

There was a formal grand march which is now little seen and this was led by Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs Arthur A Sherman, in the absence of Colonel King The state was represented by Colonel Edward A Sherman in the uniform of the governor's staff with Mrs Sherman There were also a few uniforms from the regular army, but otherwise military visitors were not conspicuous, though there were a number of people from other cities The refreshment room was open throughout the dance so that the guests were enabled to partake at any time and there was no need of the "grand crush" at the intermission

The decorations were effective, being based on the foundation of the electricians ball two months ago This foundation seems to have become a fixture of the hall, while the little variations worked out on it from time to time have shown a great improvement over the attempts to decorate the bare walls in the past Bunting judiciously used, laurel streamers electric lights and palms gave a rich appearance The women seemed to have been planning for this dance to "spring" their new gowns and with the uniforms of the men combined to make the scene one of beauty seldom seen

During the intermission Sergeant and Mrs Marshall C Rogers danced the Argentine Tango and the Brazilian Maxixe giving an exhibition of really graceful dancing They were not imitated later for it was easily seen that such dancing required much practice while it is claimed that any one can walk through the common way of dancing now

Corporal Knowe's orchestra furnished the bright snappy music of the evening and Harold Johnson played for the exhibition dancing The dance officials were as follows

Floor Marshal—Captain William Knowe

Assistant—Sergeant A Power

Aides—Major R C Ebbs Captain William E Braley Lieutenant J W Thompson Sergeant Major W J Dawley Sergeant J J Dawley Corporal Frank Lutz Corporal A A Knowe Corporal Enos Titcomb Corporal Maurice Hale

With one of the usual large gatherings at the Father Mathew's dances present, the annual ball given by the society in its hall Monday evening was another of its successes The music for a program of 20 dances, which lasted from 9 o'clock until 2 was rendered by McCloskey's orchestra with Mr Albert Commette as accompanist During the intermission refreshments were to be had and at various times a large number of those present enjoyed several old fashioned dances

The decorations which were one of the features of the ball consisted essentially of American flags All the walls and the staircase were covered by large flags and occasionally red white and blue bunting was to be seen On the east wall directly above the orchestra was a life size picture of Washington emphasized by electric lights and above the stairway was a big star surrounded with electric lights on which the word Welcome stood forth while the portrait in the outer hall was also decorated

The committee in charge consisted of Messers James J Hickey Valentine W Waters P H J Leeson and Charles Meehan The floor director was Mr James J Harrington and his aides Messrs William Carry Garrett Kirwin and Frank Murphy The refreshment committee included Messers Donald Smith Robert Hayes James J Stevenson Charles P Vaughan Peter F Martin and James M Lacey

The eighteenth annual ball given by Brunhilda Lodge was a well attended affair in Music hall Monday evening and also early Tuesday morning The program consisted of 20 of the latest dances Lodter's orchestra rendering the music On the committee of arrangements were Mrs I [illegible] Mrs Paul Schoenteler Mrs William Oberlies and Mrs Malzacker The floor managers were Mrs Max Seinneven and Mrs John Haas with Mrs William Oberlies Mrs Verdiest and Mrs F Lodter as aids

CLUBROOM FOR MEMBERS.

Rhode Island Lodge to Provide for Social Tendencies

Rhode Island Lodge I O O F is planning to turn the smoking room in the rear of the first floor of the Odd Fellows building into a clubroom for the use of members There has been a tendency of late for those taken in during the past year or so and many of the older members, to meet in the kitchen or wherever they could for a social time, almost every evening To accommodate this growing tendency it is proposed to utilize the smoking room, which for many years has been scarcely used except for storage A committee already has in hand the work of fitting up and furnishing the room.

TEAM MEETS THE USUAL FATE.

Stuyvesant High Returns to New York With Decisive Defeat Against It

Fourteenth Straight Victory for Rogers, Now on a Par with Best High School Quintets.

Stuyvesant High, winners of the New York city championship six times out of the last seven years met the fate of all the teams which have played Rogers this season and returned to New York with a decisive 40 23 defeat against them The crowd in the high school gymnasium Monday afternoon was easily the biggest of the year, the spectators occupied every possible corner, but as usual did not interfere with the playing.

The claim is made that Stuyvesant had the best passing team which has been seen in Newport this season, and certainly the New York boys played all around the Rogers quintet at times Rogers won on better ability to maintain a whirlwind pace, the Stuyvesant players showing brilliant form only at times, while Rogers played consistently throughout

By winning from Stuyvesant Rogers proved that it is on a par with the best of the high school quintets in the Eastern states, and that its claim for championship honors is, at the present time, a little better than that of any high school team in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, as Wellesley, Holliston, Quincy, Winthrop, Fall River Technical, Turners Falls, etc have suffered defeat, Rogers in the meantime maintaining a clean slate Monday's victory over Stuyvesant being the fourteenth straight victory

Although the margin by which Rogers won appears comfortable, the Newporters were very much in difficulty at various intervals in the game, Stuyvesant's hard luck on shooting being all that prevented the score from being much closer It is estimated that, while each team had about the same number of shots, Rogers scored most because of familiarity of the hall, and Stuyvesant being handicapped because of playing in a comparatively small hall

Stuyvesant had a better team than Holliston and about as good as Wellesley In practice they looked unbeatable when they gave an exhibition of shooting and passing which argued ill for the locals, who were also handicapped in size The Stuyvesant players formed a typical New York team of rugged lads, who handled the ball with the skill which marks a professional, and an ability to pass which any team would be proud to possess The New Yorkers began at such a fast pace that many thought the game would be a walk over with Rogers on the short end but once Connolly and Diggles began to drop them in the heart seemed to go out of the Stuyvesant boys although they were dangerous every time they secured possession of the ball Stuyvesant made nine goals from the floor, and five of these were of the hair-raising variety They were off on foul shooting however, making only five out of 16 tries

The recent hard games with Wellesley and Holliston have welded Rogers into so powerful a team that once they started their passing scores would always follow Whenever Stuyvesant obtained the ball they would keep it away from the Rogers men until they had a shot at the basket at least and only luck in the beginning of the second half saved Rogers from being scored on rapidly for the Stuyvesant players came back with a rush and had Rogers bewildered The spurt soon died out and Rogers proceeded in its business of scoring

The New York team came to Newport with a big reputation having won 18 out of 23 games this year, and finished second to DeWitt Clinton in the interscholastic league Incidentally this was the first time in seven years that Stuyvesant had failed to win the championship the players attributing their standing to the fact that they did not have efficient coaching this year Their style of game is slightly different from that played by Rogers or other New England teams the New Yorkers being accustomed to a game in which no one is allowed to block the man with the ball They soon became accustomed to the New England style however and proved fully as efficient as Rogers in this branch

Stark began the scoring for Stuyvesant when he registered on a foul chance and Vogel then tallied a sensational shot for the New Yorkers Connolly broke the ice for Rogers but when Stark scored another field goal for Stuyvesant the latter were going at their best clip and had the Rogers five on the defensive Arnold brough the score to 5-4 when he scored on a long try and then Diggles put Rogers ahead for the first time when he made his first goal Arnold and Stark each scored on foul chances after which Diggles came back with two goals in succession and Arnold with a foul goal

Stark then made another of his foul goals, and Specht drew big applause when he tallied on a rapid throw for more than half the length of the court Connolly came into rapid action for Rogers and dropped in two in a row after which Vogel scored another which made it 18-11 in Rogers favor Before the half ended Stark registered on another foul chance and Connolly made it 22-12 in Rogers favor when he scored two more neat goals.

At the beginning of the second half Rogers seemed dazed and Stuyvesant came with a rush which threatened defeat Had the New Yorkers counted on three of their many tries the score would have been fairly close for the rest of the half Unfortunately for the Stuyvesant team Diggles had recovered his form and was the first of the Rogers men to score in the half Connolly followed with his last goal and Diggles with the tally which put the game on ice Denniston went in for Martin and made good by scoring three goals

Stuyvesant did comparatively little scoring until the last of the half when they made four of the last five goals Wasseman the star centre who had been playing a grand game coming to the fore with three hard earned goals The score for the half was 18-11 with Stuyvesant again on the short end

The brilliant work of Diggles was the individual feature The crack Rogers forward was the high scorer for the contest with seven goals to his credit besides being the player who followed the ball around the hall best Connolly at centre again proved that he is invaluable scoring five goals in the first half when they were sadly needed Leo was left alone to cover three men at times but the way in which he tackled the proposition successfully stamped him as the most reliable guard the Rogers team has Arnold did considerable floor work, but was a little off in shooting

Wasseman a centre with Stark played the best game for Stuyvesant,

COMEDY CLEAN AND ENJOYABLE.

"The King of Utopia" an Excellent Musical and Dramatic Performance.

Original Librette Has Many Hits on Local Affairs and Conditions at Training Station

That the Naval Training Station has among its officers and apprentice seamen men who are able to produce a really excellent musical and dramatic performance was fully evidenced Monday evening, when the Station Comic Opera Company presented the nautical musical comedy, "The King of Utopia," for the benefit of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association at the Station. Not only was the performance one of the best amateur productions ever given in Newport, but there was a large and enthusiastic audience which showed hearty appreciation of the many good things by frequent laughter and hearty applauses.

The libretto was written by Hospital Steward B D Sheffield, formerly at the Naval Training Station, and the music was adapted from popular airs and light operas The plot, like those of most musical comedies, is rather extravagant and improbable, but that does not matter in such productions so long as there is a thread of a story upon which to hang the songs and other parts of the play In this respect "The King of Utopia" is rather better than some others It afforded opportunities for clever comedy acting a number of well rendered songs, rich costuming, good chorus work, and elaborate stage equipment, all of which except the costuming were executed by the officers and apprentices The costuming, by M Sullivan & Son was of an elaborate character and quite appropriate

The play was produced by Chief Boatswain John Davis, who since he has been at the Station has shown that he is a dramatic producer of great versatility and able cleverness. He was ably assisted by Chief Yeoman Gus Segure, who had charge of the stage arrangements, Chief Master-at-Arms A G E Piltz who painted the scenery, H R. Truelson, who directed the properties, Chief Electrician Thomas Twigg, who managed the electrical effects, M W Robinson, the accompanist, O L Meissner, who was the musical conductor, and Bandmaster F Caruso, who led the augmented orchestra

The cast of characters was large, with 20 named principals and large choruses representing nobles and ladies of the court, slaves the Royal Utopian band landing forces from the U S S Marrahooch and a detachment of the Utopian army R D Flannery and J J Dougherty as Fitzie Fitzmorris and Jack Holvstone stragglers from the U S S Marrahooch mock princes from the Sun were the comedians and their work was of high order in that line Their comedy was clean and enjoyable, and their many hits on local affairs and conditions at the Station were deservingly well received Their songs also were well rendered notably Fitzmorris topical songs The Spooning King of Utopia and Remorse Dougherty was heard to excellent advantage in duets with Alifa You and I and with Bennie We are Engaged

Of the singing contingent M J Rogers as Bonnie and H Miller as Alifa who made very presentable girls were especially good They sang in duets with Holvstone and Fitzmorris and in trios with other members and in each case showed unusual musical training and cultivated voices H R Truelson as the Duchess of Pow Wow was also excellent in several numbers The choruses were well drilled in their movements and singing and added materially to the success of the performance

There were also several non-singing participants who acted well including G Segure as Tartayn the prime minister A S Leavitt as Ketchum minister of police and E J Higley as court astrologer and the minor characters were all in capable hands

The introduction of the 24 men of the Station Guard, under Chief Master-at-Arms J B Jerome in a drill was one of the features of the second act They appeared as a detachment of the Utopian army and there was a universal expression of opinion that if any country or mock country had an army as well drilled as these men it need fear little from an invader They gave a fine exhibition of a Dance and Dramatic Entertainment by Cloyne House School Students.

The annual dance and dramatic entertainment by the students of Cloyne House School, Monday evening, attracted a large number of friends and relatives of the students in Newport and from out of the city. Mrs. O. W. Huntington and Mrs. S. E. Balch of Cloyne House and Mrs. Frederick Talcott of New York received.

Many of the students and their guests appeared in fancy costumes in the dance, among the more notable being Mrs. Huntington as a girl of 1850, Mrs. Balch as Carmen, Miss Stewart as a peasant, Miss Katherine Knight as a Persian princess, Miss Doris Durell as Columbine, Miss Elizabeth Walker as Priscilla, Dr. Huntington as a St. Bernard monk, D. B. Jacques as George Washington, Mr. Wilkie as a Crusader, Hooker Talcott as a Japanese, Francis Chambers as Harlequin, Hamilton Harris as a noble, Mr. Thompson is a Chinese mandarin, Lewis Kerr as a Dutch boy, Walter Hindry as a Russian moujik and Curtis Wood as an Indian chief. Music for the dancing was furnished by McCloskey's orchestra.

During the intermission in the dancing program a one-act comedy, "The Striped Sweater," was presented under the direction of Mr. Charles L. Olds, Jr., one of the masters of the school. The participants were A. Cleveland Coxe of Cos Cob, N. Y., Eugene Meader of Houston, Texas; Graham Aldis of Harvard, John Wells of New York, Francis Chambers of Philadelphia and David Hay Atwater of New York.

The gymnasium, in which the dance and dramatic entertainment took place, was decorated with flags and bunting by friends of the school from the Naval Training Station.

MRS. I. NEWTON PHELPS.

Recent Death of Wife of Former Pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Speaking of the recent death of the wife of a former pastor of the First Baptist Church, who since leaving Newport has served churches at Babylon, Elizabeth, N. J., and Meriden, Conn., and is now vicar of St. John's parish, Stamford, Conn., the Stamford Advocate says her illness, which lasted two weeks, began with a cold which developed into bronchial pneumonia. "Mrs. Phelps was Miss Anna A. Barber, a daughter of William C. Barber, who was for more than 40 years teller of the Drydock Savings Bank of New York. He was one of the founders of St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn. She was educated in a Brooklyn seminary and had considerable literary and musical talent. Coming to reside in Stamford last year, after the appointment of Mr. Phelps to his present position, she felt all the more at home here because her sisters, Mrs. Harry Bell and Miss Mary A. Barber, were residents of this city. She leaves a daughter."

He will speak on "The Soul of the Indian, or the Great Mystery." Miss Irene Eastman will accompany her father and will be heard in Indian melodies.

Dr. Eastman is the most noted educated Indian in the United States and has been much in demand as a speaker before large audiences throughout the country. His books have been widely read and are considered an authority on Indian life and customs.

This meeting is under the auspices of the religious work committee of the Association.

A WASHINGTON SOCIAL.

A Washington social was given by the Young Women's Hebrew Association in the rooms of the Young Men's Hebrew Association. Refreshments and dancing followed.

A PAIR OF SPECTACLES.

Roles Well Taken in Play for Benefit of Trinity Parish House Fund.

Before an excellent audience at Trinity guild hall Monday evening "A Pair of Spectacles," a comedy in three acts by Sydney Grundy, was capitally presented for the benefit of the parish house fund, under the personal direction of Mr. A. O'D. Taylor. The play calls for but one setting, the breakfast room at Mr. Goldfinch's, the first act taking place one morning, the second the next morning and the third the next evening.

The play itself is a good one. Benjamin Goldfinch is a wholesouled, generous, charitable man, trustful of everybody, while his brother, Uncle Gregory, is his exact antithesis. The two visit a man who has asked help. Uncle Gregory helps sure the man is an imposter. This proves to be the case. Benjamin Goldfinch is disappointed and, breaking his spectacles, borrows Uncle Gregory's. From that time Benjamin Goldfinch also becomes suspicious of everybody, until every one with whom he comes in contact does him some favor and he realizes that it is better to trust and sometimes be deceived than never to trust and thereby misjudge.

Too much can hardly be said in praise of Mr. Lyold E. Mayer, who played in "Eager Heart" in Trinity guild hall last Christmas and took the part of Benjamin. He was letter-perfect in a long and difficult role, his make-up as an old man was excellent, and his voice and acting left nothing to be desired. It is seldom that an amateur sustains a part so well. Mr. Henry C. Wilkinson as Uncle Gregory was also remarkably good as a crabbed old man, who, however, shows the good side of his character at the end.

Mr. Lewis B. Plummer as Benjamin Goldfinch's son, Mr. William Helme as Dick, his nephew, and Mr. Julian N. Johnson as Lorimer, his friend, are well cast, while Mr. A. O'D. Taylor as Bartholomew, his shoemaker; Mr. Herman A. Lawson as Joyce, his brother, and Mr. Pawel Kazajdian as another shoemaker were excellent. Mrs. Ralph R. Hazard as Mrs. Goldfinch, the young wife of Benjamin Goldfinch, had a congenial role. Miss Gustava W. Stenhoip was attractive as Lucy Lorimer and Miss Bertha Johnson was good in the minor part of Charlotte, a parlor maid.

The stage was furnished by Mr. Taylor, assisted by Mrs. Taylor. Mr. Taylor's work in dramatic lines in Newport is well known, but it may be said that he has never been more successful than in his production of "A Pair of Spectacles."

At the close of the play there was dancing to the music of Mr. Arthur Puddington's orchestra, which also played before and between the acts. Home-made candy was on sale.

DETAILS OF SONG FORM.

Mr. Geer Gives Illustrations on the Piano at Second Lecture.

The second in the series of lectures by Mr. Geer was given Monday evening, the many other attractions of the holiday drawing from the attendance. The topic was the "Song Form" and many interesting details were given, with illustrations on the piano.

Going down to fundamental things, the speaker said repetition is the basic principle of every form of art, be it architecture, painting, poetry or music. Alliteration is repetition. Melodies are made by repeating little "motives." A sequence is a repetition, in a series; a harmonic sequence is a succession of repeated chords, sometimes useful in making a climax. Imitation is a repetition in different voices. Schubert is a composer who repeats instead of developing his themes.

Motives are varied by alteration of intervals or of rhythm, as from eighth notes to sixteenths; or by inversion, or retrogression, or dismemberment, or embellishment, or enlargement. After a contrast comes re-instatement of a melody. There are 12 different forms of scales. Motives alternate sometimes in making up a melody.

The speaker analyzed the principal theme of the fifth symphony, which Beethoven called "Fate knocking at the door." Interval expansion and the hair cadence with its pause which is not final were shown. Beethoven was a slow, careful, laborious composer, although his music was never "labored." The speaker played the original draft of this fifth symphony theme, beautiful but somewhat monotonous, and showed how the magic touch of the master had overlaid and transformed it into one of the most graceful and expressive of melodies.

The melody of the "great" G minor fugue of Bach, with its two alternating motives, was played. Thesis, antithesis, and complementary phrases were mentioned, and the "period," or basis of all construction of music, was reached.

In the "two part song form" the melody leaves, arrives by something in contrast, then returns to the start. Exactly so is the negro melody, "Swing low, sweet Chariot." A Scotch melody, another negro melody, and that in the ninth symphony were taken as illustrations.

In "three part song form" there is a melody like the first part of the "two part" form, then some contrasting material, then a return of the first part. A negro folk song, and the last movement of Beethoven's sonata, Op. 14, No. 2, in which the three part is two measures short, were played. Some license is allowed in varying the number of measures—to those able to do it and yet maintain the proper balance.

The next lecture (there being a wedding in the speaker's church requiring his presence next Monday) will be next Wednesday evening, and as some elaborate music is to be introduced a pianola will be used. There will be illustrations from "The Harmonious Blacksmith," the XIV Sonata in A by Mozart, the A flat sonata, Op. 26, of Beethoven and the Bach orchestral suite in C.

A KALEIDOSCOPE OF BEAUTY.

Brilliant Scene at Annual Ball of the Newport Artillery Company.

Many Dances, Some Old-Fashioned, Enjoyed at Washington's Birthday Entertainments.

Masonic hall was a kaleidoscope of beauty Monday night, the occasion being the annual ball of the Newport Artillery company. The members were in their Colonial uniforms and the costumes of the women and the decorations made the scene brilliant. The attendance was large and the enjoyment like the overflowing cup, even though Sergeant Knowe did make an announcement, which a little surprised some. He said the guests would be expected to follow the program, and when a two-step was played not dance a one-step, or if a waltz was played that should be danced and not a hesitation waltz. Applause followed the announcement, though some still seemed disposed to go their own way.

There was a formal grand march which is now little seen, and this was led by Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Arthur A. Sherman, in the absence of Colonel King. The state was represented by Colonel Edward A. Sherman, in the uniform of the governor's staff, with Mrs. Sherman. There were also a few uniforms from the regular army, but otherwise military visitors were not conspicuous, though there were a number of people from other cities. The refreshment room was open throughout the dance, so that the guests were enabled to partake at any time and there was no need of the "grand crush" at the intermission.

The decorations were effective, being based on the foundation of the electricians' ball two months ago. This foundation seems to have become a fixture of the hall, while the little variations worked out on it from time to time have shown a great improvement over the attempts to decorate the bare walls in the past. Bunting judiciously used, laurel streamers electric lights and palms gave a rich appearance. The women seemed to have been planning for this dance to "spring" their new gowns and with the uniforms of the men combined to make the scene one of beauty seldom seen.

During the intermission Sergeant and Mrs. Marshall C. Rogers danced the Argentine Tango and the Brazilian Maxixe, giving an exhibition of really graceful dancing. They were not imitated later, for it was easily seen that such dancing required much practice, while it is claimed that any one can walk through the common way of dancing now.

Corporal Knowe's orchestra furnished the bright, snappy music of the evening and Harold Johnson played for the exhibition dancing. The dance officials were as follows:

Floor Marshal—Captain William Knowe.

Assistant—Sergeant A. Power.

Aides—Major R. C. Ebbs, Captain William E. Braley, Lieutenant J. W. Thompson, Sergeant Major W. J. Dawley, Sergeant J. J. Dawley, Corporal Frank Lutz, Corporal A. A. Knowe, Corporal Enos Titcomb, Corporal Maurice Hale.

Entertainment committee—Major R. C. Ebbs, chairman; Captain William E. Braley, Lieutenant J. W. Thompson, Sergeant Major W. J. Dawley, Sergeant A. Power, Sergeant J. J. Dawley, Corporal Frank Lutz, Corporal A. A. Knowe, Corporal Enos Titcomb, Corporal Maurice Hale.

Reception committee—Colonel F. P. King, Lieutenant A. A. Sherman, Major R. C. Ebbs, Major C. F. Barker, Captain William Knowe, Captain William E. Braley, Adjt., Lieutenant J. W. Thompson, Qrm., Lieutenant H. H. Harden, P. M., Lieutenant S. H. Hazard, Lieutenant H. H. Luther, Asst. Surg., Lieutenant C. R. Peabody, Asst. Surg., Lieutenant E. H. Porter, chaplain, Ordnance Sergeant T. H. Lawton.

With one of the usual large gatherings at the Father Matigew's dances present, the annual ball given by the society in its hall Monday evening was another of its successes. The music for a program of 20 dances, which lasted from 9 o'clock until 2, was rendered by McCloskey's orchestra with Mr. Albert Commette as accompanist. During the intermission refreshments were to be had, and at various times a large number of those present enjoyed several "old-fashioned" dances.

The decorations, which were one of the features of the ball consisted essentially of American flags. All the walls and the staircase were covered by large flags and occasionally red white and blue bunting was to be seen. On the east wall, directly above the orchestra, was a life-size picture of Washington, emphasized by electric lights, and above the stairway was a big star surrounded with electric lights, on which the word "Welcome" stood forth, while the portrait in the outer hall was also decorated.

The committee in charge consisted of Messrs. James J. Hickey, Valentine W. Waters, P. H. J. Leeson and Charles Meehan. The floor director was Mr. James J. Harrington; and his aides Messrs. William Carry, Garett Kirwin and Frank Murphy. The refreshment committee included Messrs. Donald Smith, Robert Hayes James J. Stevenson, Charles P. Vaughan, Peter F. Martin and James M. Lacey.

The eighteenth annual ball given by Brunhilda Lodge was a well attended affair in Music hall Monday evening and also early Tuesday morning. The program consisted of 20 of the latest dances. Lodter's orchestra rendering the music. On the committee of arrangements were Mrs. E. Lodter, Mrs. Max Seannevin, Mrs. Paul Schoentzeler, Mrs. William Oberlies and Mrs. Maizacker. The floor managers were Mrs. Max Seannevin and Mrs. John Haas, with Mrs. William Oberlies, Mrs. Verdesi and Mrs. E. Lodter as aids.

CLUBROOM FOR MEMBERS.

Rhode Island Lodge to Provide for Social Tendencies

Rhode Island Lodge, I. O. O. F., is planning to turn the smoking room in the rear of the first floor of the Odd Fellows' building into a clubroom for the use of members. There has been a tendency of late for those taken in during the past year or so, and many of the older members, to meet in the kitchen, or wherever they could, for a social time, almost every evening. To accommodate this growing tendency it is proposed to utilize the smoking room, which for many years has been scarcely used except for storage. A committee already has in hand the work of fitting up and furnishing the room.

TEAM MEETS THE USUAL FATE.

Stuyvesant High Returns to New York With Decisive Defeat Against It.

Fourteenth Straight Victory for Rogers, Now on a Par with Best High School Quintets.

Stuyvesant High, winners of the New York city championship six times out of the last seven years, met the fate of all the teams which have played Rogers this season, and returned to New York with a decisive 40-23 defeat against them. The crowd in the high school gymnasium Monday afternoon was easily the biggest of the year; the spectators occupied every possible corner, but as usual did not interfere with the playing.

The claim is made that Stuyvesant had the best passing team which has been seen in Newport this season, and certainly the New York boys played all around the Rogers quintet at times. Rogers won on better ability to maintain a whirlwind pace, the Stuyvesant players showing brilliant form only at times, while Rogers played consistently throughout.

By winning from Stuyvesant Rogers proved that it is on a par with the best of the high school quintets in the Eastern states, and that its claim for championship honors is, at the present time, a little better than that of any high school team in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, as Wellesley, Holliston, Quincy, Winthrop, Fall River Technical, Turner's Falls, etc., have suffered defeat, Rogers in the meantime maintaining a clean slate. Monday's victory over Stuyvesant being the fourteenth straight victory.

Although the margin by which Rogers won appears comfortable, the Newporters were very much in difficulty at various intervals in the game, Stuyvesant's hard luck on shooting being all that prevented the score from being much closer. It is estimated that, while each team had about the same number of shots, Rogers scored most because of familiarity of the hall, and Stuyvesant being handicapped because of playing in a comparatively small hall.

Stuyvesant had a better team than Holliston, and about as good as Wellesley. In practice they looked unbeatable when they gave an exhibition of shooting and passing which argued ill for the locals, who were also handicapped in size. The Stuyvesant players formed a typical New York team of rugged lads, who handled the ball with the skill which marks a professional, and an ability to pass which any team would be proud to possess. The New Yorkers began at such a fast pace that many thought the game would be a walk-over, with Rogers on the short end, but once Connolly and Diggles began to drop them in the heart seemed to go out of the Stuyvesant boys, although they were dangerous every time they secured possession of the ball. Stuyvesant made nine goals from the floor, and five of these were of the hair-raising variety. They were off on foul shooting, however, making only five out of 15 tries.

The recent hard games with Wellesley and Holliston have welded Rogers into so powerful a team that once they started their passing scores would always follow. Whenever Stuyvesant obtained the ball they would keep it away from the Rogers men until they had a shot at the basket at least, and only luck in the beginning of the second half saved Rogers from being scored on rapidly, for the Stuyvesant players came back with a rush and had Rogers bewildered. The sport soon died out and Rogers proceeded in its business of scoring.

The New York team came to Newport with a big reputation, having won 18 out of 23 games this year, and finished second to DeWitt Clinton in the interscholastic league. Incidentally this was the first time in seven years that Stuyvesant had failed to win the championship, the players attributing their standing to the fact that they did not have efficient coaching this year. Their style of game is slightly different from that played by Rogers or other New England teams, the New Yorkers being accustomed to a game in which no one is allowed to block the man with the ball. They soon became accustomed to the New England style, however, and proved fully as efficient as Rogers in this branch.

Stark began the scoring for Stuyvesant when he registered on a foul chance, and Vogel then tallied a sensational shot for the New Yorkers. Connolly broke the ice for Rogers, but when Stark scored another field goal for Stuyvesant the latter were going at their best clip and had the Rogers five on the defensive. Arnold brought the score to 5-4 when he scored on a long try, and then Diggles put Rogers ahead for the first time when he made his first goal. Arnold and Stark each scored on four chances after which Diggles came back with two goals in succession and Arnold with a foul goal.

Stark then made another of his foul goals and Specht drew big applause when he tallied on a rapid throw for more than half the length of the court. Connolly came into rapid action for Rogers and dropped in two in a row, after which Vogel scored another, which made it 18-11 in Rogers favor. Before the half ended Stark registered on another foul chance and Connolly made it 22-12 in Rogers favor when he scored two more neat goals.

At the beginning of the second half Rogers seemed dazed, and Stuyvesant came with a rush which threatened defeat. Had the New Yorkers counted on three of their many tries the score would have been fairly close for the rest of the half. Unfortunately for the Stuyvesant team, Diggles had recovered his form and was the first of the Rogers men to score in the half. Connolly followed with his last goal, and Diggles with the tally which put the game on "ice." Denniston went in for Martin and made good by scoring three goals.

Stuyvesant did comparatively little scoring until the last of the half, when they made four of the last five goals, Wasseman, the star centre, who had been playing a grand game, coming to the fore with three hard earned goals. The score for the half was 35-11, with Stuyvesant again on the short end.

The brilliant work of Diggles was the individual feature. The crack Rogers forward was the high scorer for the contest, with seven goals to his credit, besides being the player who followed the ball around the hall best. Connelly at centre again proved that he is invaluable, scoring five goals in the first half, when they were sadly needed. Lee was left alone to cover three men at times, but the way in which he tackled the proposition successfully stamped him as the most reliable guard the Rogers team has. Arnold did considerable floor work, but was a little off in shooting.

Wasseman at centre with Stark played the best game for Stuyvesant,

COMEDY CLEAN AND ENJOYABLE.

"The King of Utopia" an Excellent Musical and Dramatic Performance.

Original Libretto Has Many Hits on Local Affairs and Conditions at Training Station.

That the Naval Training Station has among its officers and apprentice seamen men who are able to produce a really excellent musical and dramatic performance was fully evidenced Monday evening, when the Station Comic Opera Company presented the nautical musical comedy, "The King of Utopia," for the benefit of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association at the Station. Not only was the performance one of the best amateur productions ever given in Newport, but there was a large and enthusiastic audience, which showed hearty appreciation of the many good things by frequent laughter and hearty applauses.

The libretto was written by Hospital Steward B. D. Sheffield, formerly at the Naval Training Station, and the music was adapted from popular airs and light operas. The plot, like those of most musical comedies, is rather extravagant and improbable, but that does not matter in such productions, so long as there is a thread of a story upon which to hang the songs and other parts of the play. In this respect "The King of Utopia" is rather better than some others. It afforded opportunities for clever comedy acting, a number of well rendered songs, rich costuming, good chorus work, and elaborate stage equipment, all of which except the costuming were executed by the officers and apprentices. The costuming, by M. Sullivan & Son, was of an elaborate character and quite appropriate.

The play was produced by Chief Boatswain John Davis, who since he has been at the Station has shown that he is a dramatic producer of great versatility and able cleverness. He was ably assisted by Chief Yeomen Gus Segure, who had charge of the stage arrangements; Chief Master-at-Arms A. G. E. Pitts, who painted the scenery; H. R. Truelson, who directed the properties; Chief Electrician Thomas Twigg, who managed the electrical effects; M. W. Robinson, the accompanist; O. L. Meissner, who was the musical conductor, and Bandmaster F. Caruso, who led the augmented orchestra.

The cast of characters was large, with 20 named principals and large choruses representing nobles and ladies of the court, slaves, the Royal Utopian band, landing forces from the U. S. S. Marrahooch, and a detachment of the Utopian army. R. D. Flannery and J. J. Dougherty, as Fizzie Fitzmorris and Jack Holystone, stragglers from the U. S. S. Marrahooch, mock princes from the Sun, were the comedians, and their work was of high order in that line. Their comedy was clean and enjoyable, and their many hits on local affairs and conditions at the Station were deservingly well received. Their songs also were well rendered, notably Fitzmorris's topical songs, "The Sporting King of Utopia," and "Remorse." Dougherty was heard to excellent advantage in duets with Alita, "You and I," and with Bonnie, "We are Engaged."

Of the singing contingent, M. J. Rogers, as Bonnie and H. Miller as Alita, who made very presentable "girls," were especially good. They sang in duets with Holystone and Fitzmorris and in trios with other members, and in each case showed unusual musical training and cultivated voices. H. R. Truelson as the Duchess of Pow Wow was also excellent in several numbers. The choruses were well drilled in their movements and singing and added materially to the success of the performance.

There were also several non-singing participants who acted well, including G. Segure as Tsitayn, the prime minister; A. S. Leavitt as Ketchum, minister of police, and E. J. Higley, as court astrologer, and the minor characters were all in capable hands.

The introduction of the 24 men of the Station Guard, under Chief Master-at-Arms J. B. Jerome, in a drill was one of the features of the second act. They appeared as a detachment of the Utopian army, and there was a universal expression of opinion that if any country or mock country had an army as well drilled as these men it need fear little from an invader. They gave a fine exhibition of p
